L.R.B. Likely To Quit

Protest Sacred
Labor Policies

By GORDON FORBES

Resignation of one member of the five-man B.C. Labor Relations Board is imminent due to the new Social Credit regime's attitude towards the handling of labor matters.

George A. Wilkinson, an A.F.L.-T.U.C. union nominee appointed when the board was formed in 1947, has submitted his resignation. It is expected to be presented to the provincial cabinet by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks this week.

Other resignations may follow. Mr. Wilkinson and D'Arcy Baldwin, board chairman, were tight-lipped when asked for comment today.

But Mr. Wilkinson's silence is expected to be broken after his resignation is accepted.

'FED UP'

Close friends of Mr. Wilkinson said he is "absolutely and utterly fed up" with the attitude of the new government, and he is taking a position in industry.

Unrest within the labor department has been evident for several weeks, but top labor officials hoped it was due only to the government's "settling down" period. They say now their hopes were in vain.

Word of Mr. Wilkinson's pending resignation came as the government started considering formation of a non-permanent labor relations board, similar to many other Canadian provinces.

His resignation, however, has no direct connection with this proposal. It is known he has been considering quitting for considerable time.

Investigation of the advisability of changing the existing permanent nature of the L.R.B. is still in process, and no decision is expected for some time.

Top government officials are studying the organization of labor boards in other provinces, and the United States.

A minority group in the government favors complete abolition of the L.R.B., but there is little likelihood of this ever materializing.

Certain groups, which feel such a step would be disastrous, already have brought pressure to bear on the government, insisting there must always be a labor board if any sort of labor-management peace is to be maintained in British Columbia.

WOMAN CREMATES SELF IN AUTOMATIC FURNACE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 1 (AP).—The medical examiner's office Tuesday night said a 44-year-old housewife, despondent over ill-health, carefully removed her wedding ring and then cremated herself in the oil furnace of her home.

Detectives said Mrs. Marguerite Albert apparently turned off the master switch of the furnace and set its thermostat at 76 degrees, warmer than the house temperature. A rubber band and a stout cord were found attached to the switch and hanging on front of the furnace door.

Detectives said Mrs. Albert climbed into the furnace and pulled the cord to the master switch before closing the furnace door.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (UP).—New Yorkers got a spine-tingling demonstration Tuesday night of what would happen if an atomic bomb were dropped on the nation's largest city.

Victoria Follows the World Series

Bums' Home-Run Power Gives Rookie Joe Black Six-Hit Win

Ebbet's Field Sees Largest
Crowd for 1952 Series Opener

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers, with a display of home-run power, won the opening game of the 1952 World Series today, beating the New York Yankees 4-2 before 34,861 spectators.

The Dodgers scored all their runs on homers — one each by Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Peeewe Reese — as Joe Black, the rookie relief artist, checked the Yankee batters.

The Yanks also had one homer, by Gil McDougald, as Black and Allie Reynolds, veteran Yankee ace, waged a brilliant pitching duel until Snider made his four base wallop with Reese on base in the sixth inning.

Play by play follows:

FIRST INNING
YANKEES — The opening batter, Hank Bauer, flied out to Andy Pafko in left field. Pafko went back near the wall for Rizzuto's fly. Mickey Mantle, batting left, popped a 3 and 2 pitch to Reese at short.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

DODGERS — Billy Cox hit Reynolds' first pitch to Noren against the wall in left field. Reese took a called third strike after working the count to 3 and 2. Duke Snider hit a towering fly to Mantle in right.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING
YANKEES — Yogi Berra grounded out, Black to Hodges. Furillo caught Rollins' fly. Noren popped to Reese.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

DODGERS — Robinson drilled a home run into the left field bleachers to put the Dodgers ahead 1-0. Roy Campanella followed with a sharp single to right. Berra's throw to Billy Martin caught Campanella trying to steal second. Pafko grounded out, McDougald to Collins. Reynolds threw out Gil Hodges.

One run, two hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING
YANKEES — Gil McDougald tied the game up when he homered in the same spot as Robinson. Black then struck out the next three batters.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

DODGERS — Berra caught Furillo's high foul near first. Black was called out on strikes. Cox drew the first base on balls of the series. Rizzuto made a great play on Berra's throw to nail Cox attempting to steal second.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING
YANKEES — Rizzuto rapped a clean single to left centre to lead off the inning. Mantle swung at a high curve and then bunted the next pitch. Black fielded the bunt but Mantle beat the throw to first. Berra grounded to Hodges who threw to second, forcing Mantle. The return throw was too late to get Berra. Rizzuto went to third. Collins flied to Furillo in right. Rizzuto holding at third. Robinson threw out Noren.

No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

DODGERS — Reese flied out to Mantle but Snider doubled off the right field wall. Robinson worked the count to 3-2 and walked. Campanella hit into a double play, Martin to Collins.

FIFTH INNING
YANKEES — Gil McDougald walked. Martin singled to Pafko but McDougald was thrown out at third. Martin went to second on the throw. Reynolds grounded out, Reese to Hodges. Pafko made a sensational tumbling catch of Rizzuto's sinking liner.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

DODGERS — Bauer caught Pafko's fly. Hodges grounded out, McDougald to Collins. McDougald threw out Furillo.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING
YANKEES — Rizzuto went out swinging at a curve. Mantle

R.C.A.F. Window Wins Red Feather Contest

$195,000 City Campaign Going Full Tilt
With 33 Per Cent of Objective Reached

The R.C.A.F. recruiting centre at 1315 Government Street today was declared the winner of the Red Feather window display contest sponsored by the 1952 Red Feather campaign committee.

The Post Shop, 623 Fort Street, was second.

Voters were the general public, who placed their ballots in boxes provided at city drug stores.

"Response was amazing," said Roy Denny, who arranged the contest. "There must have been several thousand ballots cast. The winner, of course, was selected by majority vote."

Theme of the winning window was a Christmas tree loaded with gifts for the 17 welfare agencies taking part in the Red Feather campaign.

First prize, a certificate donated by a local artist, will be presented to Ft. Lieut. Hugh Campbell, commanding officer, and his staff at a ceremony Saturday.

Meanwhile, the campaign to raise $195,000 in Greater Victoria continued at full speed, and will not close until Oct. 5.

With latest returns showing 33 per cent of the quota subscribed by all 14 districts in the campaign area, Central Saanich was well in front today with 75 per cent of its total collected.

Langford was in second place with 67 1/2 per cent, and Sidney surged ahead to third place with 63 per cent.

Victoria city is lagging with only 21 per cent of its commitment filled. Most rural districts have not yet heard from outlying portions of their territory, and reported returns to date incomplete.

Volunteer collectors are still working, however, and will continue to the end of the week.

Harold Wilson and Richard Crossman, two henchmen of the fire-eating "Nye" Bevan, ousted old-guard Labor leaders Herbert Morrison and Hugh Dalton from the executive committee Tuesday at the party's annual conference at Morecambe.

This gave the anti-United States, anti-rearmament Bevan followers six of the seven committee seats allotted to local Labor parties. The remaining 21 seats—12 of them allotted to trade unions—were held by tired of rebels who call the wilder tune.

The Daily Express suggests that the trade-union tank and file soon may force their leaders to side with Bevan.

"Although union leaders may rampage against him, they themselves are dependent on their own rank and file," The Express declares. "And what evidence there is suggests the rank and file may soon be for Bevan, too."

The dissenting note came from The Daily Herald, which is controlled by the pro-Attlee Trades Union Congress and reflects official labor party policy. Carefully avoiding any suggestion of a party split, The Herald comments:

"A 'who's who' of the executive may change from time to time. What can never change is the purpose of the (Labor) movement, which transcends all personalities."

15-Year-Old City's Ninth Case of Polio

B.C. Total 373;
Incidence Wanes

A 15-year-old Victoria boy is the latest poliomyelitis case reported today by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer for Victoria and Esquimalt.

It brings to three the number of 15-year-old boys who have been reported as polio cases in Victoria proper this year.

Total number of cases for the city to date is nine.

Only one other case of polio has occurred in B.C. in the last 24 hours, however, bolstering provincial health department officials' belief that the epidemic is on the wane.

The new case is a 23-year-old Pentecost woman.

It brought the 1952 total number of cases to 373. There have been no new deaths for some time, the total remaining at 23.

The Victoria boy is reported to have "quite mild symptoms." He is in isolation at Jubilee Hospital.

"Canadian Pacific officials have acknowledged keen interest in the idea," Mr. Denny disclosed. "And they have promised an immediate study of the new route."

Chamber officials have been working on the plan for nearly a year, he disclosed. But it was not until today that the B.C. Coast Service's district passenger agent H. C. James authorized release of the facts of an investigation, now in progress.

The Canadian Pacific's coast service is understood to be studying possibility of constructing wharf accommodation for carrying ferry vessels at either Sidney, Swartz Bay or Shoal Harbor.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

I guess I'm the wrong guy to go canvassing for the Red Feather agencies. I don't bear down. They send me out with a sales kit calculated to encourage a subscriber to give big. When I come back with my small collections, the people at district headquarters are polite enough in thanking me, but I sense they're just a little disappointed that I haven't done better. I get the unhappy feeling they think they've sent a boy to do a man's job.

The householders give me lots of good will when I ring doorbells with a receipt book in my hand. They tell me they hope the campaign's going over well this year. They say they're happy to give and that they wish it could be more.

While I'm covering my block I move in a sort of rosy glow, pleased that so many want to do the right thing by those who aren't so fortunate. Nobody's rebuffed me—I get the impression that they think as I do about the work of the different services supported by the Community Chest.

It's only when I get down to adding up my collections that I grow a little despondent. If the campaign were depending on canvassers like me, it wouldn't get nearly enough.

The Ferdinand Type

The smart thing for me to do would be to see Stevenson and Kellogg for an aptitude test or small job analysis. They'd tell me I'm constitutionally unsuited for the business of persuading people they ought to contribute a little more to the Chest. They might even put it straighter, saying:

"Look Stott, you're a nice little guy. You mean well. But you can't sell. If you were depending on your ability to coax people into handing money over to you—if you were counting on that for a living—you'd starve to death. Why don't you look around for a job where you can just be pleasant to people without making demands on them. Maybe you could get work writing a pollyanna newspaper column. You're the Ferdinand type."

That's what Stevenson and Kellogg would probably tell me. And they'd be right.

Still, even a guy like me ought to be able to do a better job of soliciting for the Community Chest. I've seen some of the work the agencies do. I know it's good. I know it's worth a little sacrifice on the part of citizens who have a comfortable life and enjoy opportunities for decent living—whether they use them or not.

The idea isn't original, at all. It's the sentiment that influenced one of my clients Monday night. She handed me a couple of bills with the remark, "There goes my boat fare and stateroom to Seattle. That's one trip I won't be making this year. But I guess the Chest can find a better use for the money. Just the same I'd like to have gone to Seattle."

Who's to Say?

Things like that give you a lift on the porch-light route. You wish more people would see it that way. Then you wonder if maybe they don't, and you ask yourself what rights you have to guess what a person should give. The two bucks you get from one family may represent actual sacrifice. From another it's just a polite brush-off. But who are you to say?

It makes you wonder a bit about values. It makes you ask yourself if you shouldn't try to get down below the surface and give an earnest little talk on how much the agencies mean to those who need their help.

You figure it in terms of your own reactions. Probably you remember reading one of the frequent little news items that come from a far-off place telling of a famine or some other disaster that's taking lives by the hundreds. You've never experienced anything like that. Chances are you've never experienced anything like the need of some of our own folks in town, and possibly you haven't given more than a passing thought to the work some agencies do in preventing people from going sour. So the appeal seems a little remote.

Canvassers like me don't seem able to put the idea across. We think it's a little indelicate to try to tell somebody what he should do with his own money. We're so anxious not to offend that we fail to tell the story—to show our clients that the appeal isn't remote, that it's something close to home.

Guy's of my type don't twist any wrists when their collecting, but they'd sure be happier if their clients would talk the size of a donation out with their own consciences before the canvasser reached the door.

Tories Plan Trade As Major 'Plank'

Commonwealth Problems To Be Carried Into Next Federal Elections Campaign by P.C.'s

OTTAWA, Oct. 1 (BUP).—The Progressive Conservative party plans to make Commonwealth trade problems one of the major issues of the next session of Parliament and the next general election, it was learned today.

Progressive Conservative sources revealed that Donald M. Fleming, M.P. for Toronto-Eglinton, will leave this week-end for a two weeks' fact-finding mission in the United Kingdom and France.

Fleming's investigation, the sources said, will assist and expand the on-the-spot survey of United Kingdom and Western European trade and currency problems which Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew has been carrying out overseas for the past three weeks.

Fleming will meet leading trade and economic authorities in

Believed of 'Major Significance'

Parliamentary circles viewed the Fleming departure to Europe to collaborate in the survey which leader Drew commenced three weeks ago as a development of major significance. It was regarded as a portent that trade and currency policies are destined to be the issues of major controversy between the two old-line parties at the coming session.

The fact that the Progressive Conservative leader is enlarging his fact-finding mission to a two-man project is interpreted on Parliament Hill as significant indication that he believes the field on which he is working is one of major possibilities as well as of key importance.

His selection of Fleming as his co-crusader in the issue is also looked upon as a clue to the direction in which Progressive Conservative trade and currency policies are veering. Fleming not only ranks as one of the most effective parliamentarians in the P.C. group in the Commons; in addition, he is recognized as the leading exponent in it of the policy of close Commonwealth connection.

Victoria's Chinese community completely ignored today the birthday of Communist China which is being observed by the Chinese nation.

A leading Chinese business man said Victoria Chinese had no sympathy with the Chinese government and for that reason were ignoring the birthday. They will observe instead the birthday of the Chinese Republic on Oct. 1, he said.

Scientists' Discovery Successful Treatment Found

Scientists have discovered that an internal deficiency in the body can be one of the main causes of Eczema. This discovery leads to ten years research, resulting in the processing of a natural remedy extracted from pure vegetable oils and now contained in the Swiss F "99" Preparations. F "99" is a new and successful approach to Eczema. It is a Two-Way Treatment taken internally to relieve the deficiency (Capsules for adults or Drops for children) and applied externally (Ointment) for absorption through the skin.

To many thousands of skin sufferers all over the world, F "99" Two-Way Treatment has already proved its tremendous value and it is being used with outstanding results even on cases where all ordinary treatments have failed.

U.S. Denies Greeks Bombed in Error

Greek infantrymen who seized Big Nori Hill from the Reds in Korea in a fierce eight-minute attack were said to have been strafed by U.S. fighter-bombers in error and forced to yield the position. Today the U.S. Fifth Air Force denied any of its planes had dropped bombs or fired on "friendly positions." The Greek troops are seen above spelling out with stones their slogan, "We'll Try to Be Better."

BUSINESS—British auto dealers will not be allowed displays at the big Canadian shows simply as a matter of business, J. L. Stewart, of the National Automobile Shows Inc., said Tuesday night in Toronto.

"It's not a matter of patriotism or even of international economics but simple business sense," he said.

British car-makers criticized Canadian dealers for "black balling" their products at the shows and for "being afraid of honest competition."

Other British auto spokesmen pointed out that British and most European shows were open to all.

CASUALTIES—Canadian casualties in Korea stood at 1,046 today, including 163 killed in action.

The army's 138th casualty list of the Far East was issued Tuesday and it reported Sgt. Robert H. Richards of Josephine, Ont., dead of wounds and 10 other men wounded in action.

A breakdown of the casualties showed 28 dead of wounds, 10 missing, one a prisoner of war, 761 wounded in action and 73 injured in battle accidents.

Fluent French Required for Two U.N. Jobs

BY BILL BOSS

Canadian Press Staff Writer BANGKOK, Thailand (CP).—Two U.N. jobs are open in Indo-China and French-speaking Canadians could fill them well. There may be many similar jobs in future.

The jobs are for technical experts employed by U.N. and loaned to Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, the three associated states of Indo-China. They are for one-year and two-year terms.

N. E. S. Raghavachari, Far Eastern regional representative of the U.N. technical assistance administration, has just returned to his Bangkok headquarters from Indo-China. He has recommended that U.N. experts sent to Indo-China be French-speaking but preferably not French citizens, in view of the delicate political situation there.

French-speaking Canadians, Swiss, Belgians, Dutch, Italians and "perhaps Germans" will be wanted, Raghavachari said.

Cambodia has put in the first request for help: a taxation expert and an economic planner.

'Friend' Stole Money—Boyd

Master Bank Robber Claims $10,000 Bank Loot Taken From Him by 'Pal'

TORONTO, Oct. 1 (CP).—A "so-called friend" stole $10,000 bank loot from Edwin Alonzo Boyd, the master bank robber claimed in a statement admitted at his trial Tuesday.

Boyd has pleaded innocent to the $16,000 robbery of the Leaside branch of the Royal Bank of Canada November 30, 1951, but in the statement admitted Tuesday he was quoted as confessing to the hold-up.

Boyd has pleaded guilty to a second bank robbery charge and still faces eight others. Also being tried for the Leaside robbery are Boyd's brother, Norman, and William Russell Jackson, who also pleaded innocent.

Two other members of the gang are also charged with the robbery but won't be tried. Steve Suchan and Leonard Jackson, no relation of William, have been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a Toronto detective.

Sergeant of Detectives Adolphus Boyd told how Edwin Boyd last March 15 confessed to the robbery in the statement which was admitted as evidence. It was in that statement that he complained that an unnamed confederate had stolen $10,000 of the Leaside loot.

Boyd, in the statement, told how he and four others robbed the bank and made their getaway. He did not name his confederates. He told how they agreed to split the loot four ways but "mine and one of the other fellows was stolen from us that night by a so-called friend."

"Did you report this loss to the police?"

"Are you kidding?"

"Anything else you wish to say?"

"I hope you catch that guy that took our money."

Norman Boyd denied taking part in the Leaside robbery. He testified he had worked on a survey job for the city the day of the robbery. Two of his superiors in the works department at city hall supported his testimony.

45 Red P.O.W.'s Killed in Riot, 120 Others Hurt

Chinese Prisoners Battle U.S. Guards

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea, Oct. 1 (AP).—United States guards with blazing guns today killed 45 Chinese prisoners of war and injured 120 others in quelling a riot. The P.O.W.'s were celebrating the third anniversary of China's Communist regime when some fanatics turned the jubilee into an attack on their guards.

The majority of those killed and wounded were shot," said a command spokesman.

Two U.S. soldiers were injured slightly.

The spokesman said: "It was really a fight. Due to all the confusion that surrounds an incident like this one, many details are lacking."

The 500 prisoners battled two infantry platoons—about 80 men—with stones, rocks, clubs, tent poles and improvised weapons.

From a standpoint of fatalities, today's riot was the second largest among P.O.W.'s in Korea announced by the army. Last February, in a similar riot on notorious Koje Island, 80 prisoners were killed.

About 6,400 hard-core Chinese Communists are quartered in various camps around Cheju City on the island south of Pusan.

Superforts Ride Through Flack to Wreck Red Plant

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 1 (UP).—American B-29 Superfortresses bombed and wrecked a vital chemical plant only 400 yards from Communist China today despite intense Red anti-aircraft fire, some of it from Manchuria.

Forty-eight B-29's from Okinawa and Japan dropped 425 bombs on the Yalu River plant at Namsan, which an air force officer described as "one of the few remaining important targets left in North Korea."

United Press correspondent Robert Udick, who rode in the sixth plane of the long B-29 formation, said "fierce Red flak" burst around the Superforts and eight enemy night fighters made non-firing passes at the bombers. However, all the B-29's returned safely.

Returning airmen reported "excellent results," with numerous secondary explosions and fires pock-marking the 4,750-by-1,200-foot target area.

"The loss will be felt in Moscow," one officer said. "The site was left smoking, burning and exploding."

Mr. Bennett Forgets the Rules

POLITICAL OBSERVERS ARE reportedly "bewildered" by Premier Bennett's proposal that the by-elections in Similkameen and Columbia go uncontested in order that his ministerial appointees may secure seats in the House.

Their bewilderment is not difficult to understand. And it will in no way be diminished by the premier's remark, quoted by British United Press, to the effect "we have a right to have our cabinet ministers seated and if they (the other parties) run candidates they are playing politics."

It is probably without precedent that a government leader should make such a request and such a complaint. Major parties have on occasion permitted candidates to run without opposition; for instance a government might concede a by-election seat to a newly-appointed opposition leader in order to let him appear in the House. But such a concession is a courtesy gesture, and by no means demanded as a right.

General A. G. L. McNaughton, after his appointment as defense minister by Prime Minister King, was twice defeated in attempts to win a seat in Parliament, and later resigned as a result of his failure to gain public support. Mr. Bennett's finance minister and attorney-general surely have no greater claim to election.

The premier's proposal is, particularly untimely in the case of Similkameen, where Social Credit won the seat by only 51 votes over the C.C.F. candidate. There is nothing in such a majority to suggest that the people of that riding overwhelmingly endorse Mr. Bennett's regime.

The government leader is on equally shaky ground when he holds uncontested by-elections to be his right consequent upon the demand of the other parties for a session of the House. It was Mr. Bennett who picked un-elected citizens to carry his two most important portfolios, not the opposition parties. If he now finds himself in difficulties in getting them into the legislative chamber, that is his responsibility and no one else's.

As for "rights," the right of the people to choose whom they wish to represent them in the Legislature is supreme, and it is the duty of the political parties to offer candidates and platforms which they feel will meet the requirements of the people. If such a democratic process is, to use Mr. Bennett's phrase, "playing politics," then let the game go on.

As Others See Us

MR. M. N. KAUL, SECRETARY of the Indian Parliament and a delegate to the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association meetings in Ottawa, has presented in concise form his opinion of the average Canadian. He is, according to Mr. Kaul's assessment, a person who aspires to a $2,000 car, a $10,000 house and an opportunity to visit the United States now and then. Canadians, as the Indian parliamentarian sees them, seem happy and have a high standard of living, are subject to no steep graduations of income, have limited aims largely concerned with material things and live in a country overshadowed by the United States.

From a visitor's point of view, the picture of the typical Canadian is neither particularly unflattering nor unconventional. Mr. Kaul does not presume to reach into the minds and hearts of Canadians, to probe their hopes and deeper aspirations. He presents only an objective description of a people he has met, and presumably likes, in the course of his visit to this land.

It will be unfortunate, however, if the majority of the Indian delegation leaves Canada sharing the views attributed to Mr. Kaul. Canadians, with pardonable reticence, are not prone to parade their inner characteristics before guests. Because of that inclination, they may not have explained to the visitors that their support of the Colombo Plan runs deeper than a mere practical gesture to serve an enlightened self-interest through the assistance of under-developed countries.

They may not be inclined to point out that an apparent absorption in such material things as a $10,000 house carries with it a desire on their part for the home in which to raise a family successfully in terms of citizenship. And if, on the surface, the land appears to be overshadowed by the United States—as it is in such fields as radio, moving pictures, industrial development and the practical features of a high living standard—it might be noteworthy to the visitors to recall that Canada has also played its independent part in international affairs, has clung tenaciously to a belief in Canada as a nation, not as a mere satellite of our big and good neighbor to the south, and has resolutely declined any overtures to be absorbed politically by the United States.

Mr. Kaul doubtless appreciates the fact that his reported assessment has been based on external appearances only, and must consequently be largely superficial. It would, however, be comforting to think that he will be taking back to India with him an impression of the Canadian people that reaches behind the facade. He has looked at a well-kept house. We hope he has also seen the home within.

Local Demands and Road Policy

WHEN E. C. CARSON WAS PROVINCIAL public works minister British Columbia's highway program moved ahead in a manner to command public admiration regardless of party affiliations. "Ernie" Carson laid out a schedule and stuck to it.

The people respected him for that policy. In its operation he was successful in avoiding dissipation of funds on work sought by special interests, concerned only with local projects.

During his term in office highways ceased to be offered as political bait for election purposes. Trunk roads received major attention and the type of highway provided did much to improve communications in general.

That policy is worth recalling at this time as friction develops among certain Vancouver Island Chambers of Commerce on road matters. The Chambers of Commerce will not be blamed for claiming special attention. Such an attitude is understandable, moreover, because funds have been earmarked for secondary roads.

But the basic principle of the Carson program can be neglected only if this province is to return to a hodge-podge highway construction system which ignores obvious needs. Still to be completed are the southern transprovincial highway, the B.C. link in the Trans-Canada Highway and the Cariboo Road.

British Columbia can afford only so much for roads. If district pressures exerted politically are successful in claiming large amounts of available funds, the money will not be available for the important jobs.

This is no time to permit parochial attitudes to destroy an overall highway program designed to serve all the people of British Columbia.

Bringing Books to the Readers

THE VICTORIA PUBLIC LIBRARY board moves in step with the times in its decision to acquire a "bookmobile." Through its years of excellent service the library has furnished reading material of wide variety to the public of this community. It still provides that service and under more favorable conditions than ever before in its expanded quarters.

Those in charge, however, have faced realities in recognizing the fact that some potential readers do not take as full advantage of library facilities as they might. Many find it inconvenient to go to the building. Others prefer to walk to the corner store for material which is accessible though probably less rich in content than the volumes which the library owns.

By taking the books to the people, rather than requiring the people to come to the books, the board feels it will help to encourage good reading. Perhaps it is unfortunate that such a service should be considered necessary. It is nevertheless a symbol of the age and one which must be faced if the library is to extend its usefulness beyond the ranks of those excellent people who now make use of the centrally located downtown building.

An added advantage is noted by the authorities. By determining the appetite for reading in the different areas served by the traveling unit, it may be possible to determine where future district centres may be established to be of widest benefit.

To the reading public in general and particularly to those among it who have criticized the less suitable matter now so easily available and so widely distributed, the "bookmobile" should be a decided asset.

Chips

By DAVID BROCK

I WAS reading in some English countryman's notes (in The Spectator, I think) about a dear old sow who was about to become a mother. Now, many animals act strangely when this event happens to them for the first time. (So do many women, the first time round, and I for one don't blame them. I have never mocked the whims of an expectant mother... though I did laugh at the Spanish waiter who howled about the whims of a pregnant woman when his English guest merely asked for a table napkin.) Animal mothers will wander off into the woods and make their own arrangements, securing the nests and beds and expert attention provided by the farmer. But this sow had had several families before.

WELL, what did she do but tiptoe off into the woods, find a nice swampy bit, and build herself a huge nest of reeds or rushes. It was a tremendous nest, about four feet high and eight or nine feet across. But, of course, even quite a small pig's nest would be quite impressive, all things considered. Even if the reeds or rushes weren't very skillfully woven together, I mean. Heavens, you might walk for miles without tripping over a pig's nest of any sort, big or small, crude or neat. Though I like to think of how big this one was, and I like to think the weaving was faultless, with maybe a pink ribbon round the top.

I DON'T suppose a person's reaction to this story would prove very much. Yet I am interested to see how people take it. Myself, I find it charming but also very funny. Some people find it merely fantastic. Others find it merely funny without being charming. And others find it merely sweet without being funny.

NOURISHMENT
PIGS' nests aren't the only things I've been reading about, either. I'm like the Reader's Digest, I guarantee to read everything for you. I was reading an article on how to keep happily nourished in Britain, by a Dr. A. P. Meiklejohn. Much of what he says sounds sensible, even to an argumentative layman like myself. But listen to this: "Many families with children have adopted the north country custom of high tea. The family can then eat together, and father can afterwards do the washing up while mother puts the children to bed. This custom has much to recommend it: for one thing, it does away with that superfluous, nutritionally unsatisfactory meal... afternoon tea."

THERE are several things wrong here. For one thing, if father can wash dishes at six, he can wash them just as well at eight, nine or 10. For another, there is no reason why he can't put the kids to bed while mother does the dishes... this gives him a private session with kids whom he doesn't often see individually or for long. And why can he do jobs only after a high tea? Couldn't he put the kids to bed first and then dine? This would give him a chance to have a quiet meal with his wife, instead of having either to bully his kids into silence at the table or to get ulcers from the effect of their crazy chatter. Kids simply do not shine at table talk.

BUT oh, the bleak dullness of that remark about afternoon tea! Tea, the least bleak of all meals. If a man has the spare time and can afford the very modest materials for tea what harm is he doing his tummy his wife, or Dr. Meiklejohn? Tea won't nourish him much, but it isn't meant to. It is meant to soothe him. And his dinner will do him all the more good for that, at whatever interval it appears. One thing more. An uninhibited chap like myself can eat his dinner on the floor in front of the fire, or on the grass in summer. But most blokes can't bear to. They can, however, be a little less prim at tea. Provided the kids let them near the fire, or onto a patch of grass.

AFTER re-reading the article, just now, I felt a slight bewilderment. I couldn't say what. But now I see what it was. The doctor was talking about old debbil alcohol, and he said that a single drink before dinner does you good, not harm. In the main, I agree. He also spoke against drinking on an empty stomach. Here again I agree. In the main. But how do you resolve this apparently contradictory advice? Why, it's easy... you have afternoon tea first, that's what. Then you still get your drink before dinner but not on an empty stomach.

SOUP'S ON
TALKING of dinner, I was reading about a New York restaurant which will supply you with porcupine, beaver, kangaroo, llama, armadillo or any old kind of wild meat... at a price. What I liked best was ostrich eggs at $75 each. I want to know more. Are they strictly new laid? Are they poached in more senses than one? How many minutes do you boil them, and what sort of spoon does etiquette decree for a boiled ostrich egg? And if one cracks while boiling, who pays for it?

WHAT I like doing best with my own ostrich eggs, when my ostriches are laying well (boy, when an ostrich gets broody you've really got something, if not eggs)... what I like best is to use the whites for angel cake, and the yolks for mayonnaise. The oil in the mayonnaise is rattle-snake oil, which not only tastes fine but (according to the Pennsylvania Dutch) will cure rheumatism, ringworm, sore eyes and hydrophobia. An ostrich angel cake should be served with a few plumes on top.

WHY NOT, INDEED
I ASKED my wife if something was true, and she replied absent-mindedly, "Sure it is, I read it in the potatoes." Well, if tea leaves can tell the future, why shouldn't spuds report on current events?

CHIP FROM OLD BROCK
David Brock, in his letter to you of 23rd ult., asks how he can soothe Mr. Gray. Well, frankly, he can't. In the old days three glasses would have done the trick but, since they have started watering the dern'd stuff, they have taken all the "soothe" out of it. Having knocked a few chips, if not from his old block, at least from his shoulders, David must be feeling better. Let us hope his efforts have had a soothing feeling on his somewhat ruffled nerves.

Dave's language is somewhat obscure and at times even a little pragmatic, which makes it hard to follow him into his realms of fantasy, even if one desired to do so, which is unlikely.
My name is mentioned so often in his letter that I am beginning to feel important, like "Caddy," and the birds which follow the boats to Victoria, or the great David Brock himself.
He asks if one can point to one case of negligence that can be pinned on to the C.P.R. In reply, I would say that, until a satisfactory reply has been given to the three very legitimate questions advanced by me, and which would clear the atmosphere at once, I must still point an accusing finger in the direction where a certain luxury liner lies upon her watery graveyard floor.

TRIPPERS TRIPPED
I wonder if you will print the following. You usually appear impartial, so I hope so.
A newscast just came over the air in which there were two items, quite distinct and yet very much related.
Item 1—Mrs. Nancy Hodges protests and denies the statement made by Solon Low that Liberal patronage had cost the Canadian taxpayers many millions.
Item 2—A prominent Liberal cabinet minister at Ottawa says there will be no general election before 1954, as the wives of cabinet ministers have voted unanimously against it. They want to attend the Coronation.

Now, Mrs. Hodges, each of the Liberal federal ministers will have a stateroom on the boat, and a hotel room in London, where there will be plenty of room for wives. They will all be Liberals. Who will pay the expenses? Surely the Canadian taxpayer, and this in spite of the fact that the voters are very anxious for a change at Ottawa which would make all, or some, of these ladies ineligible for the trip to London next year.

New York Times
IN its continuation of the propaganda use of the bacterial-warfare charge the Peiping radio has named names. Supposedly eminent scientists of six nations are said to have substantiated the Communist claim. The six nations are Sweden, France, Great Britain, Italy, Brazil and the Soviet Union.

Those nations are all members of the United Nations. All of them except the Soviet Union belong to the group that has resisted Communist aggression in Korea, and all of them, therefore, belong to the group that is accused by the Communists of using germ warfare.
We know that the bacterial-warfare charge is a lie. The Soviet Union knows that it is a lie. The Communists have been careful to prevent any honest inquiry into it. This has not, however, prevented the use of the lie for the sake of its effect upon persons who have no way of ascertaining the truth. This use is dangerous to the whole world because it stirs up fears and mistrusts and fan hatreds.

The United Nations, therefore, cannot merely ignore the charges as a stupid and offensive hoax. The charges must be countered, and countered effectively.
In the present case, since the names have been brought forward, it should be incumbent upon the United Nations and the member states involved to pin these supposed scientists down.
What exactly did they report? On what "evidence" did they base their findings? Were they biased to begin with? How thorough an investigation did they feel it necessary to make? The United Nations and its members should ask these questions, publicly, and make public the answers at the earliest moment.

Candidates Shy Of Korea

By WALTER LIPPMAN from Washington

MANY seasoned observers who have been around the country recently say that, though they must suppose that the Korean war is an important influence on the voting, they do not know how to assess it. That may be due in large measure to the fact that no issues have been defined clearly. Both parties and both candidates have been shadow-boxing—careful to avoid a candid and informative discussion of the Korean war which would bring out the critical mistakes in the past and the critical problems today. There is a reason why they are evading the question. It is that the two parties are inextricably involved in every mistake.

Take first the period before the North Korean aggression of June 25, 1950. What, in retrospect, were our principal mistakes? It is generally said now that they were: first, the withdrawal of American troops from South Korea before there was an adequate South Korean army; second, Secretary Acheson's speech excluding South Korea from the American defense perimeter; third, our deplorable military unpreparedness; fourth, that we were surprised by the attack.

Now during the period when these errors were being committed, the Chief of Staff and principal military adviser to the President was Gen. Eisenhower himself, and after him his own chosen successor, Gen. Bradley, and the chief military commander in the Far East was Gen. MacArthur.

All would now agree that the fundamental mistake was that we left South Korea unprotected and thereby invited aggression. This was the combined error of the Pentagon and the State Department. The decision to withdraw our troops should have been accompanied by a plain guarantee that we would intervene—it was not necessary to say how—if South Korea was attacked.

What happened was that we withdrew our troops and allowed the Communists to think that there was no American guarantee—that we would do nothing except make speeches in the U.N. if North Korea conquered South Korea.

Once the war had begun, and we had reversed our established military policy, which was not to engage our infantry on the mainland of Asia, we arrived at September, 1950. It was then, I submit, that we made our most costly—may be our irreparable—mistake.

OBJECTIVE REACHED
MacArthur's brilliant victory in the Inchon landing had cleared South Korea of the North Korean aggressors. They had been driven back behind their frontier on the 38th Parallel. At this point the objective of the United Nations had been reached. The Chinese had not entered Korea. The non-Communist nations of Asia were still participating in the United Nations' action.

That was the time to make an armistice. It would have been the same armistice we have been trying to negotiate for more than a year. But we would have been dealing only with the North Koreans. Our casualties were then about one-quarter of today's.

Our decision not to make an armistice but to occupy North Korea was the fatal mistake of the whole Korean war. The mistake was made by President Truman and Secretary Acheson on the advice of Gen. MacArthur, and under the pressure of his political supporters as the Congressional election campaign of 1950 was being waged. The mistake has produced two years of savage, indecisive, and as to its purpose unnecessary war.

Why does nobody who is campaigning discuss the Korean war, and why we are where we are, and how we might work our way out of this dead end? Because for partisan purposes it hurts everybody who touches it.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"THE wolf," said the Elevator Man, "in sheep's clothing had nothing on that prisoner down in Kansas. It seems a Kiwanis convention was visiting the state reformatory. They went in, 225 of 'em, and after seeing the whole works they came out, 226 of 'em. An enterprising inmate had borrowed some clothes from the laundry, joined the crowd, and lit out for parts unknown when they emerged from the stone walls. That doesn't mean you can't tell a Kiwanian from a jailbird or a Kiwanian. But it does indicate that if you mingle with the right crowd you may get taken for one of them for a while. Even a black crow can hide among white pigeons if he gets into a thick enough mass of them. There's safety in numbers, especially the other fellow's. Lower main!"

"As a matter of fact," said the Elevator Man, "there's an awful lot of us who seem to be operating on the same principle. Take the people who like to say they live in a Christian country, for instance. They may never give a nickel to church or go near one, their religious beliefs are almost non-existent, but they take credit for the general good name of the nation and secretly hope that by mingling with the crowd they may be able to make the grade undetected. However, there are sharper eyes on the job at the pearly gates than at the reformatory. Going down!"

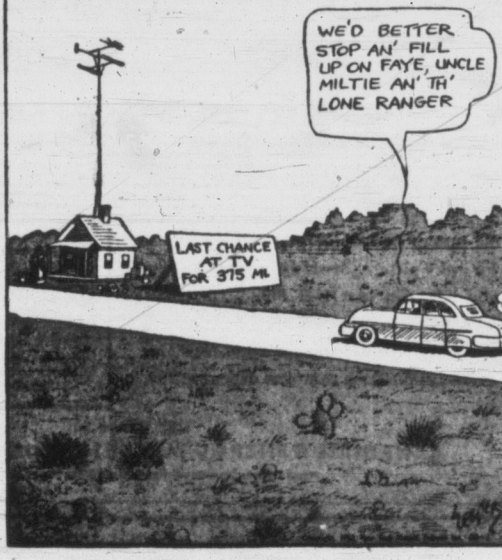

"But," said the Elevator Man, "even the right company can be wrong for the wrong person. Take that fella whose wife was trying to break him of playing with the horses. A friend dropped in to see him, and not knowing how his wife felt asked him, 'Did you have any luck with Millicent the other day?' The wife shot her husband a dirty look and matted out of the room. 'Now you've done it,' moaned the fella. 'My wife thinks I don't bet now. You'd better square this with her.' So when the wife came back the friend thinks fast and says, 'I hope you didn't misunderstand me just now, Mrs. Brown. Millicent isn't a horse, you know. She's a chorus girl.'"

WORLD SERIES JITTERS

Rookies Get Butterflies

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (UP).—Ask any of the World Series "rookies" how he feels just before the start of the big classic and he'll readily admit there's a peculiar feeling in the pit of his stomach.

Whether he be a veteran baseball man like 35-year-old pitcher Ray Scarborough of the Yankees or a green rookie like 20-year-old Cuban-born Sandy Amoros of the Dodgers, the feeling is the same.

Try as they may, they can't convince themselves that this is "just another ball game." Food hasn't been quite as appetizing as usual; it's been a lot harder to work up interest in small talk or watch a television program, and sleep hasn't come as readily the last few nights.

Let some of these series newcomers tell you about their reactions:

Scarborough, Yankees—"Do I feel tension? You bet I do! I find myself pitching to Dodger batters when I try to fall asleep at night. All the fellows feel nervous up. If you don't believe it, just try to get one of them to sit down and talk quietly for five minutes."

George Shuba, Dodgers—"I felt relaxed for a few days after we clinched the pennant, but I can feel the tension mounting as the series approaches. It's a good thing for me, though. I play better when I'm keyed up. I've been in minor league playoffs before, but it was nothing like this."

Joe Black (Dodgers) starting pitcher today—"I try to make myself think that this is just like any other game, but by game time I know I'll have that funny feeling in my stomach until I throw the first ball. It was the same way when I played football in college."

Ken Lehman, Dodgers (who was fighting in Korea six months ago)—"Back in Korea I never dreamed I'd be in a series this soon. Why, I was discharged from the army only in August. I don't expect to do much pitching in the series, but I'll be throwing every pitch mentally with Joe Black, Carl Erskine and the others."

Tom Gorman, Yankees—"I'm still amazed at being in the series. Why, some guys play in the majors 10 or 15 years and never make it. And here I'm in my first season. A little jittery? Sure, who can help it?"

Ewell Blackwell, Yankees (a fugitive from the National League)—"It still seems like a dream. I've been in the all-star game and the feeling is pretty much the same. You get butterflies in your stomach until the first pitch, and then they're gone."

Irv Noren, Yankees—"I won't believe I'm in the series until the game actually starts. And I want to play more than anything else."

Amoros, Dodgers—"Muay felicitad contente." Translation: "I'm very happy."

'HOW MANY HAVE YOU GOT?'

World Series Ducats Cause Players Pain

By MILTON RICHMAN
FAIRLAWN, N.J., Oct. 1 (UP).—The telephone in Gene Woodling's home jangled, noisily for the 10th time in 15 minutes.

"Hello!" . . . "Oh, sure I remember you." . . . "How many did you say you want?" . . . "Sixteen sets!" . . . "What's that? You say you don't mind paying for them, either?" . . . "I'll do the best I can."

The weary Yankee outfielder politely said good-bye, put the receiver back in its cradle and sighed.

"People must think we ball players print our own tickets to the World Series," he said. "That phone has really been hot the past few days and everybody opens the conversation the same way—'Can you get me a half-dozen tickets to the series?'"

"I tell all the people that we ball players don't get an unlimited amount of tickets and that we have to pay for each one we get—but they don't believe it. I told one fellow that I even have to pay for my wife's ticket but he just laughed at me. Thought I was kidding him."

Woodling is in the same boat as all Yankee and Dodger players, who have been deluged by ticket requests from the moment they clinched their pennants.

"I never knew I had so many friends in the world," gasped an astonished Duke Snider Monday. Even Cuban-born Sonny Amoros, who joined the Dodgers in August and hasn't had time to make too many new acquaintances, sadly declares:

"Nobody ask me how I feel any more; all they say is 'How many tickets do you want?'"

Like all world series participants, Woodling had to devise a system for distributing tickets, purely in self-defense.

"My wife, Betty, and I had to work out a process of elimination," he explained. "We tried to accommodate our closest relatives, like our brothers and sisters, first."

"We received 24 sets last year and you'd be surprised how quickly they went. We haven't received our series tickets for this year yet but we're supposed to get them today."

"People simply refuse to believe that we ball players have to pay for any tickets we get."

Woodling, like all the other players, has been so swamped with ticket requests that he has hardly had a chance to think about a painful groin injury.

"I got by pretty well in Monday's workout," he said, "and I think I'll be able to start."

"I don't care where I bat," grinned the husky outfielder, "so long as I play."

Woodling started to talk about the forthcoming series but was interrupted.

"Excuse me," he said with a sigh. "There goes the phone again."

The New Cougar Look

Added to a new season and a new coach, the 1952-53 Victoria Cougars will have new sweaters and new crests, as modeled by defenseman Ernie Roche. This year's sweater has a snarling cougar on the crest and the individual numbers on the shoulder. The colors are maroon body with blue trim and white number and crest.

Cougars Prep for Exhibition Game

There were no new player developments from the Victoria Cougar front office today as the team upped the tempo of its practices in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena.

The Cougars worked out again this morning under Eddie Dorohoy and the roster was swelled to 13 with the addition of Andy Heberton and Reg Abbott who arrived in town Tuesday from Montreal.

The squad now consists of Dorohoy, Ernie Roche, Bernie Strongman, Joe Evans, Flori Goegan, Jerry Connor, Butch Bouchard, Joe Medynski, Jack McIntyre, Doug Anderson, Abbott and Heberton.

ARM INFECTION
Bouchard was suffering from a slight arm infection following Tuesday's practice but it was not believed to be serious.

General manager Fred Hutchinson today released the New Westminster line-up for Friday's exhibition.

The Royals will have big Lucien Dechen in goal, fronted by defensemen Jim Bedard, Lloyd "Bull" Durham, Bob Bergeron and Ernie Oakley. For forwards, they will choose from Bobby Love, Max McNab, Kenny Ullvo, Bob Leek, Ollie Dorohoy, Gord Fashway, Clayton Lavell, Stan Maxwell, Jerry Cabana, Blinky Boyce, Gordy Haldy and Don Slater.

The Victoria line-up has not been set but it is likely Dorohoy will centre one line with McIntyre and Heberton as wings. Other units will likely be named following today's drill.

All-Star Grid Centre Gets Cap

HAMILTON, Oct. 1 (CP).—Snap Buckets Hirsch, chosen for the Big Four all-star team in 1950 and 1951—his first years of Canadian football—today was out for the Hamilton Tiger-Cat Club. With him went Don Bickel, 24-year-old halfback from the professional New York Giants.

Their departure left Tiger-Cats with the maximum limit of eight American imports before pruning date. And, ironically enough, it made Toronto Argonaut coach Frank Clair look good.

Clair sent Hirsch, a two-year Argonaut lineman, and Canadian-born Don Durno to the Tiger-Cats this season in a straight trade for Jack Carpenter, 25-year-old middle who formerly played with Buffalo Bills. Durno retired from the game early this month after suffering a back injury.

Rockets Aided
HERSHEY, Pennsylvania, Oct. 1 (UP).—The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League have assigned two new amateurs to the Tacoma Rockets of the Western Hockey League.

The Bruins assignees are goalie Jack Siemon of Kitchener, Ont., and Bill Mathew of Port Arthur, Ont.

For the fastest three-quarter line in the league and has an abundance of the same spirit that made it a threat last season.

Captain Walt Young, Gary Webster, Colin Baker, Dick McIntosh and Malcolm Anderson are back from last year, and topnotch aid has appeared in the form of two freshmen, Tom Ward and Sedge Richardson, who started for Wanderers last season.

Another starry freshman, Gary Pynn, may be wearing the Blue and Gold also.

Speedy Gerry Rovers and Bob Cross are up from last year's championship Oak Bay High squad, and Jack Ward and Tom Tucker are new recruits from Victoria High School.

If College can find a scrum to match its three-line it will definitely be a serious threat for honors.

The soccer picture is also exceedingly bright, even though only three of last year's players—Trev Jeans, Al Cliff and Tryg Carlsen—have returned to the school.

Close to 25 players turned out for the first practice with Art Dawe, Gary Webster and Trev Johnston being the brightest prospects.

The soccer club opens play on Thursday against Oak Bay High in an exhibition contest on the college pitch in preparation for their opening junior league contest against the Island champion Combines on Sunday.

On the other hand, the basketball outlook is quite dim as only one of last year's hoopers, Hal Gregg, is donning strip again this season.

College is dropping out of the Senior B League in favor of the Intermediate A circuit because of lack of suitable players.

Coach "Doc" Miller has hopes of flooring a contending combination from the inexperienced but enthusiastic players at his disposal in time for the season opener.

Black Dodgers' Hope As Yanks Series Favorites

'Appalling Burden' Faces Touted Brooklyn Rookie

BY GAYLE TALBOT
BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP).—The key game of the 1952 World Series began at 1 p.m. E.S.T. today at Ebbets Field, bandbox of Brooklyn's Dodgers, with Joe Black, sensational rookie relief artist of the National League champions, giving his all against Allie Reynolds, the king of the Yankee curving corps.

Never in the history of baseball did a first-year pitcher carry a more appalling burden than that assigned to Black, husky negro graduate of Morgan State College. He knew when he went to the hill that his team's chances of winning a world championship, or even of giving the famed bombers a lengthy wrestle for the honor, were believed by the experts to rest upon his ability to turn back the Yankees today.

The consensus of the critics was that the Yankees would win their fourth straight championship in five or six games. Only the possibility that Black, a right-hander of impeccable control, might throttle the champions today and perhaps offer valuable assistance later on kept many prophets from picking the American Leaguers to wrap it up in four straight.

It was a throat-catching spot for a rookie to find himself in. Only last April, after a series of poor exhibitions, Black was at the bottom of the Brooklyn mound staff and he barely escaped being shipped back to the minors. Manager Chuck Dressen shudders now at the thought.

Dodger Pitching Question Mark
Though eventually he proved his merit in relief roles and established himself without argument the most valuable single player in either league, the rookie never started a big league game in his life until the fall end of the season. He went the distance easily, sat Boston Braves down with three hits and won his 15th victory in assuring the Dodgers at least a tie for the flag. In a succeeding start he was knocked out in the fifth inning.

And that was the pitcher the National League—traditionally a "pitchers' league"—was forced to call upon today in a desperate hope of stilling Yankee bats and beating Reynolds, veteran of three series and money-hurler of wide renown.

Beyond Black, nobody can predict with any confidence what any Brooklyn thrower will do on a given day. Dressen sums up his series pitching strategy thus:

"I'm starting Black and from there on I'll do what I've been doing all season. If it's necessary to win a game, I'll use two or three pitchers—or four or five. The record shows we've done pretty good that way."

Almost as far back as one can remember, it has been axiomatic that the National League goes into the fall playoff with the finer pitching, the American League with the greater power at the plate. Now the National finally comes up with a club which slugs at least on even terms with the Yankees, yet cannot summon three curvers to compare with Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Eddie Lopat.

Outside the pitching, the experts have had much difficulty splitting the two teams apart. Both are loaded with hitting and fielding talent from the plate to the last outfielder.

No Excuses for National League
What makes the lack doubly distressing to National Leaguers is the fact that this is their only no-excuse series. For the last three years their champions have gone into the playoff whipped to a frazzle after last-day flag finishes.

Last fall the Giants had time only for a quick shower after their three-game playoff with the Dodgers. To them, the series actually was an anti-climax.

"If we ever catch those Yankees when we're rested up," the National have been accustomed to growl, "it will be a whole lot different."

Well, the Dodgers are rested this time. They clinched several days ahead of the Yanks, as a matter of fact. This should be the one where the battered senior league gets even for five straight lickings—and it finds itself relying on a pitcher fresh out of the Cuban league.

Outside the pitching, the experts have had much difficulty splitting the two teams apart. Both are loaded with hitting and fielding talent from the plate to the last outfielder.

Yankee Speed Vs. Dodger Power
The Yankees are slightly the faster team, but the Dodgers pack the great home-run threat. Their hitting and fielding averages are closely matched.

Purely a personal opinion here is that in shortstop Phil Rizzuto the Yanks possess the greatest World Series player in the game today.

The little guy starts the series terribly tired on his own admission, his blood pressure so low it barely registers. But if any one man makes a key play which swings the result of the playoff, it probably will be the scooter. He and his opposite number, Pee-wee Reese, incidentally, are the only veterans remaining from the series since the Collins scrap.

In Savoie, Pep will meet a rugged battler who has won 34 fights, 20 by knockouts, lost seven and fought four draws. The 24-year-old Savoie is shooting for a lightweight title bout with the winner of the October 15 match in Chicago Stadium between champion Lauro Salas and Jimmy Carter.

Pep figures to weigh 128 pounds, four more than Savoie. Pep held the feather crown from 1943 to 1948 when Saddler moved in to start one of the most bitter ring feuds in boxing's modern era. Saddler is now in the army.

Soccer Meeting
The junior and juvenile soccer promotions committee will hold a meeting Thursday night at St. Louis College at 8.

All coaches and supervisors of the soccer school are urged to attend.

NOTICE TO HOCKEY FANS
For the convenience of persons holding tickets before their arrival at the arena, and to avoid congestion, two new entrances on Caledonia Avenue will be open for all Cougars' games, one hour before starting time.

THOSE HOLDING TICKETS FOR SECTIONS 1 to 14 and 30 to 35
Are requested to use the southeast entrance, nearest Quadra, on Caledonia Avenue.

THOSE HOLDING TICKETS FOR SECTIONS 15 to 28 and 36 to 41
Are requested to use the southwest entrance, nearest Blanshard, on Caledonia Avenue.

Those purchasing tickets or claiming season reservations after 1:30 p.m. will use the regular Blanshard Street entrances.

Men's athletic representative Walt Young has announced that the college will join with the Normal School and it is hoped that a team will again be sent over to the University of B.C. to try and duplicate last year's victory.

BASEBALL SCRIBES PICK YANKS BY 3-1 MARGIN

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (UP).—Baseball writers, who have become accustomed to seeing the Yankees bowl over World Series opposition, favored them by an almost 3-to-1 margin today in the 1952 series with the Dodgers.

A total of 81 writers elected the Yankees while only 29 like the Dodgers in the annual pre-series poll conducted by the United Press.

Moreover, the consensus of the scribes is that it won't take the Yankees the full seven games to get the job done. Of the 81 who picked the Yankees, 35 figured the series would be over in just five games. While another 35 figured it would go six games. There were only four who predicted the Yankees in seven. But there were seven who figured that it would be a sweep for the Bombers in just four games.

CUBS, BRAVES INTERESTED

Ralph Kiner Goes on Block

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP).—Ralph Kiner, seven-time home-run king of the National League, has been placed on the market to the highest bidder, the Associated Press learned today.

It also was learned that Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves had shown interest in the Pittsburgh Pirate slugger, but were balking at the "sky-scraping" figure put on Kiner by general manager Branch Rickey.

"Sure, we're interested in Kiner," a Braves official said. "Why shouldn't we be? We're not the only club anxious to get him, either."

"We'd like to have Kiner," the Chicago representative confessed. "He always hit well in Wrigley Field. We're willing to go pretty high for him, too. But from what I've heard, Rickey wants too much."

Neither official wished to be identified.

Kiner, who will be 30 on Oct. 27, is ranked as one of baseball's greatest sluggers. He has led or tied the National League lead in home runs ever since he came up to the majors in 1946.

Hampered by illness during the first half of the season, Kiner got off to a slow start this year, but closed fast to tie Hank Sauer of the Cubs for the homer leadership at 37. It gave him a lifetime figure of 249 round-trippers in seven seasons. He batted only .244.

Kiner was paid $75,000 this season, second in the majors only to Stan Musial's $85,000 salary.

Canadian Owned Horse To Compete at Laurel

TORONTO, Oct. 1 (BUP).—Sportsman E. P. Taylor became the second Canadian today to nominate a horse for the $50,000 Washington International Handicap at Laurel racetrack in Maryland next month.

Taylor said he had purchased Castleton, a son of Windsor Slipper, for an undisclosed price to contest the race.

Publisher Max Bell of Calgary announced earlier that his good colt Indian Hemp would start in the race, the first of its kind ever held in North America. It will be run under European conditions.

Castleton's victories include the Clarence House Stakes at Ascot in 1951; the Blue Riband Trial Stakes at Epsom at the King Edward Stakes at Ascot.

His father, Windsor Slipper, an unbeaten Irish champion during the war, was out of Clandon by Hyperion.

Michigan State Tops Grid Poll
NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP).—Michigan State was solid choice as the No. 1 college football team in the United States in the Associated Press' first weekly poll.

Sports writers and broadcasters gave the Spartans 52 of the 83 first-place votes cast and an impressive total of 752 points, nearly twice that of No. 2 team, Illinois.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Michigan State (52)	752
2. Illinois (41)	438
3. Maryland (37)	363

If there's one thing I hate it's a sports writer who makes a prediction, has it come true by some lucky, unexplainable chain of circumstances, and forevermore keeps reminding his readers with "I told you so's."

Him I can do without.

Now with regard to last week's "Wednesday Quarterback" column I prophesied the eventual victories of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Conference, and Toronto Argos in the east, the two teams to meet on Grey Cup day in Canada's mightiest sports classic at the end of November.

And what happened?

Exactly what I said. Bombers on Saturday all but clinched a play-off spot in the W.F.U. when they trampled Edmonton Eskimos into the 52-degree heated prairie gridiron by a 40-18 score.

In the east, the famed double blue team of Argos, sparked by Crazy Legs Curtis, spanked Montreal Als 12-6 Sunday, to keep league leadership over second-place Hamilton Ti-Cat.

The Cats had beaten the third-place Ottawa Roughriders 27-13 on Saturday.

But the thing to remember is that I called the Bombers and the Argos to win and they did. And when they meet come November in Toronto's Bloor Bowl for the Grey Cup I'll come up with another prediction. I'll tell you — and in advance — who will win. What's more, we'll all make huge bets and win bags of money. Won't that be fun?

Forgetting the alleged humor for a moment, I think those who have followed the grid game over the years will bear with me that whereas it isn't unusual for a top-flight, championship football team to absorb occasional beatings by much weaker teams, a truly good football 12 will win every game.

There have been teams in existence, especially south of the border, that have gone several seasons without defeat.

And when you get a big team like the current Winnipeg aggregation, with runners like brilliant Tom Casey, Tommy Ford, a passer of Indian Jack Jacob's ability but a stout-hearted heavy line only a rash of injuries to the key men mentioned can stop them.

On the other hand, in the east, Argos, tied only once this year, are being closely followed by Hamilton. But either,

Francis Blanks Tacoma Rockets

PENTICTON, B.C., Oct. 1 (BUP)—The Vancouver Canucks, with Emile (The Cat) Francis in goal, blanked the Tacoma Rockets 7-0 at Pentiction Tuesday night in an exhibition Western Hockey League game.

The British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association has been denounced by the Victoria Minor Hockey Association for lack of severity in dealing with three Nanaimo hockey players who attacked a referee in Victoria last season.

The association has announced it will make a formal protest on the decision that saw only reprimands given the players.

The three players, Bill Sutherland, Don Donald and Jack Millburn, attacked local referee Jack Lockie during a junior game at Memorial Arena last season.

Millburn faced a separate charge of kicking Lockie in the leg with his skate on a different occasion.

Sutherland and Donald were given severe reprimands while Millburn's case was not taken up by the B.C.A.H.A.

The B.C.A.H.A. announced that more strict action was not taken because Donald and Sutherland were quitting hockey and Millburn was planning to play in Alberta.

Revival Seen in Ring Competition Between Various Island Centres

By ROY THORSEN

A fair-minded group in Greater Victoria boxing circles has taken action to bring about a square deal for all Island centres involved in the ring game.

"This is not the result of any fight, but we have come to the realization that this area in the past has hogged the picture far too much," said Al Duval, of the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association.

"We outweighed the up-Island centres a great deal in voting power, at one time having eight clubs with two votes apiece—thus sort of leaving the up-Island groups almost without a voice," he added.

To accomplish the fairer system, the Greater Victoria Boxing Association has been formed. It will be comprised of all local clubs. Delegates attending the Island parent body meeting will have only two votes—the same as any other Island club attending, Duval explained.

Island clubs are governed by the parent body which, in turn, is responsible to the B.C. Amateur Boxing Association in Vancouver.

Duval feels that when this work gets around it will create a lot more interest in boxing on the Island.

ALBERNI STRONG

Alberni has three clubs under George Hamilton. Honeycomb Bay has formed a club under Earl Vance. Quilicum Beach is contemplating formation of a unit. So is Ladysmith.

Duncan has no club, but Chehalis has a group of boys doing ring work.

"During the 1952-53 season we are going to make an all-out effort to make boxing strong on Vancouver Island and have hopes of producing warriors who will make the grade to the British Empire Games in Vancouver in 1954," said Duval.

Duval is president of the Greater Victoria unit. Nick Lystar is vice-president and Frank Mitchell, secretary-treasurer.

First boxing show for the new season in this area will be on Oct. 10 in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, Arena Way.

Greater Victoria and other Island clubs will continue to handle local shows, but the Island mother body will control all tournaments.

Canadiens to Stick With Last Year's Club

This is one part of a Canadian Press series on pre-season prospects of the N.H.L. clubs. Today's story covers Montreal Canadiens.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1 (CP)—On the basis of past performances alone, Montreal Canadiens must be rated at least equally as good as last season. It is a stand-pat club.

Present indications are there won't be a shining-faced rookie in sight when Canadiens open the National Hockey League season at home October 9 against Chicago Black Hawks.

RICHARD PROBLEM
Coach Dick Irvin, enthusiastic as the training season tapers off, eased himself out on a limb by predicting that "if Rocket Richard plays the full 70-game schedule he will break the league scoring record of 50 goals he set in the 1944-45 season."

Richard, laid low by a mysterious groin ailment, is free of his abdominal pains and has been flashing in old-time form. He needs only five goals to tie the life-time record of 324 set by Neil Stewart.

Elmer Lach, named all-star centre, shows no signs of wear and tear. Neither does play-making Billy Reay. Ken Mosdell and Johnny McCormack have been doing all expected of them.

Despite this happy prospect, and barring serious injuries, Canadiens' fortunes may rest with a trio of sophomore forwards who startled the league last season.

They are Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, voted rookie of the year; Dickie Moore and Dick Gamble. Geoffrion scored 30 goals, Gamble 23 and Moore, who played in only 33 games, scored 18. All coach Irvin asks is that they keep right on where they left off.

Elsewhere up forward Canadiens have hard-working Floyd Curry, speedy little Paul Meger and Bert Olmstead.

Irvin says he has forward-line reserves "three deep at any position" he can summon from farm clubs to which they now are being assigned.

EXPERIENCED DEFENSE

Backed by Gerry McNeil in the nets—the diminutive goalie who had second best goals—against average in the last season—the Montreal defense is solid, experienced and capable.

Irvin likely will start with these five defencesmen: Doug Harvey, all-star man; veteran captain Butch Bouchard, Tom Johnson, Jim MacPherson, and Dollard St. Laurent, a rookie last year. Reserves, ready for call-up, will be Ross Lowe, Ivan Irwin and Stan Long.

Twenty players will be named to the club roster, under N.H.L. regulations, but 17 will form the regular squad. The other three, farmed out, will not be subject to the draft.

N.H.L. PREXY SAYS:

M.L.A. Seeking 'Cheap Publicity'

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 1 (BUP)—National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell accused Art Child, a former goaltender and now a member of the Ontario legislature, of trying to get "cheap publicity" today by criticizing hockey's "C" form.

Child, a former goaltender with the Hamilton Tigers of the O.H.A. Senior A, has taken up the case of defenseman Ray

Ross, formerly of the Guelph Biltmore Juniors. Ross signed a C-form with the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League and when Cleveland exercised its option last winter and assigned Ross to Seattle of the Western League, he rebelled at the contract and was suspended by Cleveland manager Jim Hendy.

Child said it wasn't right for a "foreigner," referring to American Hendy, to keep a Canadian from making his livelihood playing hockey in Canada. He said he had written a number of letters to Campbell which the N.H.L. president did not answer.

In reply, Campbell said Ross now is at the Cleveland camp at Stratford, Ont., and "seems happy." If Ross signed with the club, Campbell said, the suspension would be lifted and the dispute ended.

In the meantime, he said, Child should "stop trying to get cheap publicity and let the hockey men get on with their work."

Campbell said he answered Child's letters, although he did not agree with what Child had said. Specifically, he objected to the M.L.A.'s suggestion that a panel of 16 persons, not necessarily familiar with hockey, should decide Ross' case.

Campbell said he considered himself better able to handle the situation than 16 persons "who know nothing about hockey."

Western Grid Clubs Cut American Imports

EDMONTON, Oct. 1 (CP)—Coach Frank Flinchco snipped seven heads, four with the help of injuries, from Edmonton Eskimos' roster to cut to eight the number of Americans who will finish out the Western Conference schedule as players.

The freshman coach kept two backfielders and six linemen in the quota allowed after Oct. 1 by the Canadian Rugby Union. He named Eagle Kuy at centre, Mario Demarco at guard, Joe Blanchard and Wilbur (Bill) Snyder at tackle and Rollin Prather and Frank Anderson at end.

Quarterback Claude Arnold and sensational Negro scabbard Roland Miles were kept.

Of the seven cut, halfback Bobby Flippin, injured back, tackle Chuck Quilter, injured knee, tackle Dick Steer, injured shoulder, and end Joe (the toe) Aguire, broken ankle, went by way of injuries. Centre Gayle Pace, guard Bobby Downs and end Harold Hatfield gave way to other players.

Roughies Cut Five

REGINA—Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union have cut loose five players to bring their number of imports down to eight.

Heading the list was Jack Russell, all-star player last year who suffered a knee injury at the end of the season from which he has not recovered. Russell has seen no action this year.

Topping the list of players kept on the roster were playing coach Glenn Dobbs and line coach and tackle Martin Ruby. They are the only two imports kept on the team who played for the Riders last year.

Others who made the team are tackle John Preechek of Seattle; centre Red Phillips, a grad of Texas Tech; end Holland Aplin of Tampa, Fla.; quarterback Doug Belden, University of Florida grad, and halfbacks Dick Gregory of Billings, Montana, and Clarence (Butch) Avinger of Montgomery, Ala.

Rugger Season Opener Near

Crusaders' English rugby teams will practice at Windsor Park Thursday night at 7:30. All players and prospective players of the senior and second division teams are urged to attend.

First division Crusaders will meet Oak Bay Wanderers Saturday afternoon at MacDonald Park in the first of a league play program.

Bright was the big question in Stamps' import plans.

Bright suffered an attack of appendicitis a short time ago and underwent an operation. Although he is expected to be fit for play before the end of the season, it was thought the Stampers might let him go in favor of a player who could play every game.

The Stampers cut their imports down to seven. No explanation was given why they did not retain the maximum of eight allowed under C.R.U. rules.

Released from the squad were quarterback Stan Heath, who has been on the injured list; tackle Mike Mike, a former San Francisco 49er, and tackle Paul Lea, a 235-pounder who came to Calgary from Talane University.

Retained on the squad were quarterback Dave Anderson, ends Bob Shaw and Paul Salata, hard-hitting backfielder Johnny Burre and Sugarfoot Anderson, fullback Bob Redkey and centre Bill Blackburn.

'Model Home' Display Set for End of Week

A home in one of the biggest housing projects for Greater Victoria in recent years, will be on display from Thursday to Monday in "University Gardens."

The $1,000,000 housing project disclosed recently, is planned on property opposite University School on Richmond Road. Nine houses have been erected.

Roy Green, spokesman for the Builders, Paine & Townsend Ltd., said 94 houses would be erected in the new subdivision. Prices range from $12,000.

The project will be financed by G. C. Mahoney of Victoria, Mr. Green said.

"These houses can be bought on a 20-year basis, provided loans are approved by N.H.A.," he said.

COUNCIL NAMES COMMITTEE TO WELCOME HERO

Esquimalt councillors James Bryant, Jack Carey and George Holder have been appointed to work with eight Esquimalt organizations in arranging a reception for Sergeant Richard Buxton, D.S.M., when he arrives home from Korea.

The Esquimalt soldier recently received the D.S.M. for distinguished valour on the field in Korea.

Date of the reception has not been set as the only information the organizations have is that Sgt. Buxton will leave Japan for Victoria on October 7.

Investor's Problems Are Lectures' Theme

A course on the how and why of investing money begins tonight at 8 in the Victoria College Evening Division series.

The course entitled "It's Your Money," is sponsored by Investment Dealers' Association of Canada, with members of local firms giving lectures.

'Criminals' Block Soviet Oil Quota

MOSCOW, Oct. 1 (AP)—A leading Communist official in Soviet Azerbaijan has reported that the oil industry in this area failed to meet its production quota during the last eight months largely because criminal elements infiltrated into the big southern Baku oil fields. In a report to the Azerbaijan party congress, first secretary M. D. Bagirov said the criminal elements had been cleaned out and that the oil fields will be able to catch up and meet the year's quota.

TWO WAREHOUSES

Three Got 'Seasick'

Because the audience reacts as though they were actually taking part in what they see on the huge new screen called Cinerama, three persons got sick when they watched a three-dimensional film of a roller-coaster in action. Sound emanates from seven different positions along the 63-foot screen. It made its New York debut Tuesday night.

'THIS IS CINERAMA'

Huge New Three-Dimensional Screen Makes Bow on Broadway

By MARM BARRON

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—

Perhaps the experience will recall the first time you swooped down in a fair grounds roller coaster. Or when, on a first airplane flight, the pilot suddenly went into a side slip.

Those first sensations, combined with the scenic effects of a motion picture production, are the combination of cinerama, a three-dimensional film process which made its formal bow to Broadway audiences Tuesday night.

The cinerama film, as seen now, is something bordering on a travelogue. But its first showing points the way towards possible technical changes in the entertainment world.

This first film is entitled "This Is Cinerama" because it is, in fact, the introduction of a new motion picture. It is not yet a film with a plot. The Grand Canyon of Colorado, the Cypress Gardens of Florida and the triumphal scene of "Aida" at La Scala Grand Opera in Milan are the themes for this new full-dimensional sight picture at the Broadway Theatre.

The cinerama film requires a cylindrical screen about six times the normal size of the usual movie screen. The over-all screen is 63 feet across the top curve and 23 feet high.

Although the screen is concave, the light reflections bounce off and disappear behind the screen so that it appears to be a flat, solid picture to the audience.

The sound tracks on the cine-

'I LOVE CHILDREN ...'

Man Who Beat Up 7-Month-Old Daughter Gets Year in Jail

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30 (CP)—A man who told a suburban North Vancouver court "I love children," today was sentenced to a year in jail when he pleaded guilty to beating his seven-month-old daughter.

During a fit of temper he fractured his daughter's jaw and tried to strangle the child.

He is Jean Pierre Potvin of Britannia Mines, and he told the court:

"I love children. I'm from a large family and I was never mistreated. But I had to stop my wife from nagging and the baby was driving me crazy."

Dr. C. G. McNeill, who examined the baby, said she could not open or close her mouth and had to be fed through a tube through the nose when she was admitted to hospital.

Child welfare officials testified it was one of the worst cases of child abuse on record in B.C., and Magistrate D. Poole told Potvin.

Murdoch Says City Getting Full Value in Police Work

Victoria has saved thousands of dollars as a result of "excellent labor relations" between the police commission and city police union, Ald. Brent Murdoch, police commissioner, said Tuesday night.

He was addressing a dinner meeting of North Kiwanis Club at Monterey restaurant.

He described the present force as "one of the best Victoria has ever had." He outlined its growth and that of its responsibilities since 1940.

Ald. Murdoch said while there was much to be done and improvements to be made, Victoria taxpayers were "getting good value for their police dollar."

Painful Cramps of "Monthly Periods" halted or strikingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in test by doctors!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Modern in action! Test! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's Compound is thoroughly modern in action.

It strikes directly at the cause of menstrual pain! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's Compound is proven by the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's Compound through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days." See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new improved Tablets (with added iron). Both are great, too, for those "hot flashes" and nervous feelings of "change of life." Don't suffer needlessly — when relief may be so near!

Esquimalt Worried About Open Ditches

Effluent on Shirley and Forshaw Roads Termed 'Definite Health Menace' by Spokesman

Open ditches in the area of Shirley and Forshaw Roads were termed a menace by the Esquimalt Council Tuesday night.

Sifton Appointed U. of M. Chancellor

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1 (CP)—Appointment of Victor Sifton, president and publisher of The Winnipeg Free Press, as chancellor of the University of Manitoba, was announced Tuesday by Education Minister W. C. Miller.

Mr. Sifton succeeds the late Mr. Justice A. K. Dysart of Winnipeg, who served in that post for eight years.

One of Mr. Sifton's first official acts will be to confer an honorary degree of doctor of laws on Canada's governor-general, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (CP).—Two youths arrested here were accused of breaking into a borstal reform institute and stealing cigarettes from the offices.

Council decided, after a lengthy debate, to meet a committee of the taxpayers to see what solution could be worked out.

One resident strongly opposed the $7,000 local improvement plan, claiming that the scheme would help only 18 homes in the area.

G. K. Salmon, spokesman for the taxpayers' group, said a bacteriologist's check of the effluent from open ditches on both Shirley and Forshaw Roads showed a "definite health menace."

To eliminate this danger, it was proposed to erect two tanks, one for sand and a second for chlorination, connecting all homes on both roads. Exceptions would be homes on the lower side of Forshaw.

A resident of the lower side said he thought a sewage system for the entire area or a larger plant should be built to which his home could be connected.

He suggested a survey of costs of the scheme and implementation on a 50-50 basis, between residents and the municipality.

Councillors George Holder and James Bryant felt that immediate action should be taken to eliminate the menace as a health nuisance.

Mrs. E. J. Barnsley's Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Barnsley is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. L. Robinson; two sons, Jack Barnsley, in Victoria, and Frank R. Barnsley, in Vancouver; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean will conduct the funeral service at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. The remains will be taken to Vancouver for burial.

Fire Chief Going to Defense Parleys

City fire chief Frank Briers will meet with other leading Canadian firefighters soon in Toronto for a series of tactical fire study forums.

Announcement of the forums was made by Hon. Paul Martin, federal minister responsible for civil defense.

The conference will be directed by the national defense co-ordinator, Maj-Gen. F. F. Worthington, the sessions being held over a three-week period, commencing Oct. 27.

LONDON (CP).—Lord Latham, chairman of London Transport, presented Queen Mary with a souvenir album which includes a picture of King George V and Queen Mary, then Prince and Princess of Wales, opening the electric tram service in 1903.

Recommendations for inclusion in an emergency program will be accepted from provincial fire marshals and chiefs of the main cities from coast to coast. United States federal, state and municipal fire authorities will also be invited to take part.

Nursing Home Now Assured

F. E. Winslow Announces $450,000 Block To Accommodate Chronic Patients Only

Final plans for the building of a 100-bed nursing home to cost $450,000 were announced this afternoon by F. E. Winslow, Gorge Road Nursing Home board chairman.

The new building, to be financed equally by federal, provincial and city governments, will be built on the grounds of the present nursing home to the east of the old building.

Mr. Winslow told Victoria Nursing Home directors specifications for the modern, one-story structure will be completed in about two and one-half months, and tenders will take another month to complete.

Actual construction will begin in about five months, he said, and should be completed late next year. He said final confirmation of the plans had just been received from the federal government.

It is expected the building will require only space now available on the grounds of the home at 63 Gorge Road. Adjacent city-owned property will be used if required, however.

CHRONICS ONLY

The home will be used for chronically ill patients only, thus relieving hospitals of the problem caused when chronic patients must be moved to make space for emergency cases.

Some rooms will be single, while others will have two, four or six beds. No room will have more than six, Mr. Winslow said. Several others have already been made to furnish rooms, but further donations will be sought.

There are now 40 patients in the present home, with a staff of 18. When the new building is finished a section of the present home may be used to accommodate the nursing staff.

The building now used, formerly the home of Mrs. Crow Baker, was purchased in 1945 and remodelled to provide its present 40-bed accommodation.

Two Bids Received On Grain Elevator

Two bids have been received by the city for purchase of the Ogden Point grain elevator, City Manager Cecil Wyatt said today.

They will be considered at a special council meeting Thursday at 2.

Bennett Tribute For Late Social Credit Founder

Death of Major C. H. Douglas, founder of Social Credit, is a tremendous loss to the Social Credit movement throughout the world, Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin said today.

He was speaking on behalf of Premier W. A. C. Bennett who is away from the city.

The minister said Major Douglas' discovery of several major fallacies in the world's financial system has often been disputed, but never disproved.

"All those who embrace Social Credit philosophy looked upon Major Douglas as a financial genius and a subscriber wholeheartedly to his monetary reform proposals," said Mr. Martin.

Industrialists Reminded Human Rights Come First

Visiting American steelmen were today asked to consider human rights before launching technical developments in a speech here by the Hon. H. H. Stevens, president, Vancouver Board of Trade.

The former Canadian cabinet minister rapped American hints regarding untapped water power in northern B.C. which could be diverted to an Alaskan aluminum plant.

At the same time he pointed to huge resources of natural gas in the province's northern interior which could only be utilized through a co-operative program by the whole Pacific northwest.

The thirtieth convention of the American Institute of Steel Construction, Inc., in session at the Empress Hotel, heard Mr. Stevens outline B.C.'s amazing industrial growth of the last decade.

The importance of water power was stressed, but the audience's attention was drawn also to the increase in the revenue from forests, from $300,000,000 in 1940 to $1,100,000,000 in the present year.

Technical advancements by secondary industries now made use of raw materials at one time wasted, he said. The $50,000,000 celanese plant near Prince Rupert was an example of these advances.

Introduced by Mr. Abbot Post, executive vice-president, Mr. Stevens also touched on the growing importance of the province's mining and fishing industries.

Driver Faces Two Serious Charges
A man with a bad driving record during the last two years, William J. L. Todd, 315 Beckley, was remanded to Thursday for sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Todd pleaded guilty to two new charges — driving while his license was under suspension and dangerous driving. Prosecutor Alan Bigelow told the court accused had had seven driving convictions against him in the last two years.

Constable Eric Rossiter, in a police prowl car, said he saw accused driving in an erratic manner over the downtown streets late Tuesday night, including the jumping of a stop sign. The officer said he turned on his red lights and sounded the siren and finally caught up to accused in a chase in which speeds reached 60 miles an hour.

Former Police Chief Escapes Suspension

This was the case of Allan Rankin, 31 Vickery, Saanich, former chief of police in the municipality, who earlier pleaded guilty to driving a car while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol.

Counsel James J. Proudfoot presented a strong plea that Rankin's license not be suspended. Counsel's grounds for this were his client needed his car to get to work (at Hatley Park, Colwood). "If he doesn't get there on time would lose his job and being 69 years of age has very little chance of getting new employment."

DIFFICULT CASE
"Counsel's presentation has made this a difficult case for me in regard to suspension. There has not been a previous case in which I did not impose a straight suspension for a period with modifications for a length of time following that. But due to accused's plight should he not have a vehicle to drive I have decided not to give him the 'usual,'" said Magistrate Hall.

"However, I will only do this if accused will agree to abide by certain conditions," he added.

NO DRINK FOR YEAR
"You must not drink any kind of alcoholic beverages for one year and use your car only to take you to and from work."

Rankin said that he would agree to abide by those terms.

"However, should you break either of these conditions I will recommend to motor vehicle branch officials that you get a severe suspension," the magistrate said.

Rankin was also given a $200 fine.

Accused Driver's 'Guess' on Guilt Not Permissible

An accused motorist in city police court today found that he couldn't "guess" that he was guilty of a charge.

David S. Morrison, 930 McKenzie Avenue, appeared in court today to answer to a charge of unlawfully driving over a fire hose Sept. 19.

Asked how he pleaded to the charge, Morrison told Magistrate H. C. Hall, "I know I ran over something, but I'm not sure what it was."

"I'll take that as a plea of not guilty," said the magistrate.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow asked for next Tuesday for trial.

"Oh, I guess I'll plead guilty," said the accused, but Magistrate Hall rapped back: "Under those circumstances I'll not accept a plea of that type."

There will be a trial next Tuesday.

ASK The TIMES

Q—I would like to know the meaning of the DY label on the windshields of some Victoria cars?—Mr. L. B.

A.—They indicate that the owner of the car has a pass to enter H.M.C.S. Dockyards. They facilitate his passage through the dockyard gates.

Q.—What is the derivation of the word "umbrella"?—Mrs. J. Y.

A.—A Latin word meaning "little shadow."

Q.—What is the difference between the words "limited" and "incorporated" as used by business firms of Canada and the U.S. respectively? Are Canadian businessmen over-cautious? Could the psychological effect of "limited" be retarding?—I. N. C.

A.—Limited and incorporated as used by Canadian and U.S. business firms mean the same. There is no evidence that Canadian businessmen are over-cautious. The psychological effect of the word "limited" would depend upon the person hearing or reading it.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send it to the Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

The female department of this newspaper is able to do pretty well as it pleases, and most of the time it is none of my business.

But I do object when it starts to run shipping news. As per yesterday's "Recipe" which was headed "Peaches and Cherries in Port."

If the ladies intend to announce arrivals and departures from Ogden Point, the least they can do is use the correct nautical terminology. "Ss. Peaches and Cherries in Port."

I also object to Penny Saver's opening statement yesterday. Penny Saver said: "Let's turn our thoughts to the kitchen. No, not food! But the ware we put it in."

As an eatin' man from 'way back, I submit that any fool knows where to put it.

She also said "In the English china you can buy a batter bowl for 79 pennies."

What she MEANT to say was, "If you know a batter bowl, go to it."

Please do not get the erroneous impression that I am against the female department.

The female department is very often correct in its statements.

Why, just the other day, it reported that the young ladies of a certain fraternity had held a meeting.

And almost immediately after the paper appeared on the streets, a constituent communicated with our Elizabeth Forbes, and said "Oh, are YOU ever in trouble! Saying that young ladies belong to a fraternity."

It is with mixed feelings I reveal that the young ladies, as announced, DO belong to a fraternity. I am very pleased at the accuracy of Miss Forbes reporting; but somewhat dismayed that men cannot even call a fraternity their own.

If this keeps up, the young lady refusing a proposal will change the time-honored phrase to read: "No, but I will always be a brother to you."

THIS item hasn't a thing to do with the female department. The Glenside Hotel is advertising an afternoon tea on Thursday—to celebrate the opening of its COFFEE room extension.

In Victoria, there will always be a Little Bit of Old England—even if we have to serve tea in our coffee room.

I had always understood there was a certain amount of healthy rivalry between the two afternoon papers in Vancouver, the Province and the Sun.

So it came as a surprise when I noticed a large banner over-line on Saturday's Province, which announced a complete novel entitled "ROAD TO THE SUN."

Taxes' Yield Mounts

Record in Sight As Deadline Near

A record high tax collection of more than 90 per cent of Victoria's total 1952 levy is expected by penalty deadline tonight, A. G. Joyce, assessor-collector, said today.

The city estimated total collections of 94 per cent of the total $3,020,264 levy by the end of the year.

Last year's total of Oct. 2 was 89 per cent.

Up to Tuesday night 78.8 per cent or $2,379,201 was collected, Mr. Joyce said.

For the same period in 1951, 73.1 per cent of $2,027,658 of the total levy was collected.

However, the figures undergo a rapid 24-hour change today, the last day for payment before the 1 per cent penalty goes into effect, Mr. Joyce said.

"We have had very few complaints this year," he stated, as he gave Mr. Taxpayer a pat on the back. "People have been very co-operative."

While percentage collection at Sept. 30 was close to 5 per cent over that for the same period in 1951, Mr. Joyce warned:

"Last year we collected $450,000 on Oct. 1. This came from some of the large accounts, which have already been collected for this year."

A record collection is still in the cards, however, he said.

LABOR BOARD TO INTERPRET

Interpretation of the union shop clause in the Victoria Builders' Exchange-Carpenters' contract will be discussed at an informal meeting with the Labor Relations Board Thursday.

The meeting was requested by the exchange following a one-day work stoppage at the H.M.C.S. Naden barracks construction project Sept. 15.

The exchange will also ask definition of the union's authority to interfere with the hiring and firing of men.

Law Ends Early Calls, Milkmen Sleep Longer

Milk delivery men get a two-hour sleep-in for the next seven months.

Starting today and continuing to the end of April, no milk deliveries are permitted before 6 a.m. The balance of the year, deliveries are permitted from 4 a.m.

Under city by-law hours for milk delivery until the end of April are 6 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. They were 4:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Teeveed Series Holds News Fans

If you find fragments of the World Series box score scattered throughout the news columns of your Times today, blame Woodward Stores Ltd. Courtney Haddock, manager, loaned the Times news staff a TV set to view the battle of the Yankees and Dodgers. The result: stories written and copy edited between innings. Bill Walker, sports editor, insisted on a close-up view, and borrowed a magnifying glass from the engraving department. Monte Roberts of Between Times (top left) used a mirror to secure a preferred position; Denny Boyd, sportswriter, is used to hanging over press box rails; John Shaw, assistant city editor, and Phil Lee, telephone editor, escaped from their desks long enough to put the evil eye on the Yanks, who dropped the opener. ### FIVE-CENT JAVA THING OF PAST

Restaurant Association's Chief Sees No Chance for Cheaper Cup

By DAVE STOCK

Don Coburn, of Fort William, Ont., sees no chance of the five-cent cup of coffee making a comeback on the Canadian scene.

Mr. Coburn should know. He is head of the Canadian Restaurant Association, which boasts of more than 1,100 members across the country. He arrived in Victoria this morning for a one-day visit to mark the completion of a Western Canada tour initiated two weeks ago.

"The few places that still sell coffee for five cents do so as a come-on," he said. "They take a loss on the coffee, but operate on the theory that it draws people into their stores and that they will buy something else before leaving."

The dapper Ontarioan toured the Maritimes and Quebec in the spring. His Western tour now complete, he intends to go south to attend a restaurant association meeting in Southern California before returning home.

Labor is the biggest problem of Canadian restaurant operators, Mr. Coburn said. There just aren't people available who are willing to take restaurant jobs. The problem is particularly evident in the west.

"In Saskatchewan, the operators say the government is taking away all their help. In Alberta, it's the oil companies. And in B.C., they say it is the Alcan development and the lumber camps."

Mr. Coburn thought the 40-hour week would soon be adopted by restaurants as a means of getting people to work for them.

Main purpose of the Canadian Restaurant Association is to improve the standard of sanitation and food preparation to benefit the eating-out public, he said.

The association also strives to aid restaurant operators by keeping them informed concerning latest mechanical apparatus and methods.

"The restaurant industry is one of the toughest there is," said Mr. Coburn. "It's one which has a high mortality rate."

Traveling with Mr. Coburn is his wife and Mrs. Florence G. Montgomery, managing director of the association from Toronto.

KOREA-BOUND

Gosley Picks Cast to Play For Troops

Two housewives and a clerk in the Land Registry office have been named to accompany Jerry Gosley to Korea next month to entertain Canadian service personnel.

Selected for the trip are Mrs. Irene Henderson, 1765 Newton Street, who has won the title "Victoria's Grace Fields"; Mrs. Vera Moore, 951 Bay Street, singer, dancer and acrobat; and Al Denoni, 1228 Haultain Street, accordionist and emcee.

Gosley said today he was still appealing to Ottawa to allow one more member of his Smile Show to make the trip. He is anxious to have Reg Stoffer, a one-man vaudeville show, included in the overseas party.

"The army said they only had room for two men and two girls," said Gosley. "We've written back to tell them Al and I will willingly take turns sleeping on the floor of the trailer if they'll let Reg go too."

Larry Isn't Even Frightened

When Albert Heighes of 1257 Burnside Road West, dug this alarming potato ... or is it plural ... he couldn't believe his eyes. But it wasn't anything frightening for Larry Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Clarke, 1177 Bewdley, who wants it baked for his dinner ... all nine pounds or so.

This has been a season for awesome-looking freak potatoes. At least a dozen have been brought to The Times and others have called by telephone to describe their prize finds.

A meeting of the Citizens' Coordinating Council to the Veterans' Hospital was held last week to hear addresses by Maj. S. H. Okell, D.V.A. administrator, and Maj. E. G. Drage, hospital manager. Mrs. U. Carver presided.

Only one case of polio has occurred in British Columbia in the last 24 hours, bolstering provincial health department officials' belief that the epidemic is on the wane.

The new case was a 23-year-old Penticton woman.

It brought the 1952 total number of cases to 373. There have been no new deaths for some time, the total remaining at 23.

First meeting of the new Pacific Great Eastern Railway board of directors, originally scheduled for today, was postponed to Oct. 8 at 3 p.m.

The meeting was postponed because of Premier W. A. C. Bennett's tour of the interior in connection with by-elections. He is president of the board.

City of Victoria now has authority to issue debentures totalling $62,536 to pay for some 28 local improvement jobs now completed.

Approval was given by provincial order-in-council, according to word received at City Hall today. The local improvements include construction of sewers, storm drains, sidewalks, curbs, gutters and rock roads.

Say Good-Bye to Ink Stains With New Pen!

By PENNY SAVER

It's coming soon!

In fact, it won't be more than a couple of weeks before the new pen, appropriately called the "snorkel"—after the submarine with the extensible breathing tube—is on sale in Victoria.

The new pen has an ingenious, little tube under the point which is extended for filling purposes so the pen itself never touches the ink. After filling, the snorkel tube is pulled back up under the point by a few twists on the plunger tube.

"Heaven will protect the working girl," according to the old-time song. But the company that made this pen is certainly lending a helping hand.

This latest gift from industry to harried secretaries and stenographers is freedom from "secretary's hands."

You will probably remember that not so long ago we ran a short story on the women's pages that told of the annual convention of National Secretaries' Association, and some of the suggestions that came out of that convention.

Naturally, they named an understanding boss, considerate treatment and pleasant work surroundings.

Those are possible for almost any secretary. But the girls also selected some other things—such as occasional lunch with the boss, a messproof pen and afternoon refreshments on the house—they may not be considered very probable.

But those who named a messproof pen will be pleasantly surprised when they learn of the production of a practical messproof fountain pen.

As I mentioned before, it has an extensible tube which removes the threat of stain to fingers, clothing and furniture.

The makers of the pen, don't say it was created merely to protect the "poor working girl" from ink-stained tell-tale secretary's hands. But the power of women should not be underestimated, they admit, as a factor that inspired them to spend years of research in developing a writing instrument that makes handwriting as unobtrusive as most females other daily tasks.

Here's how the snorkel is filled: The plunger knob at the top of the pen is twisted, automatically pushing the tiny tube out beyond the point. The tube—not the point—is dipped in the ink which is sucked in by one down-stroke of the plunger. The tube is drawn back in under the nib. The pen is ready to write.

It's a dream come true. The pen will come in several variations with prices starting at $12.50.

AS WE LIVE

Jealousy Is a Disease That Kills Friendship

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Jealousy in childhood is a destructive emotion. It can kill the love and respect of all with whom the child comes in contact. As the years go on it becomes worse. What should old friends do under such conditions, this young girl asks:

Hurlock with this girl.

(Q)—"Since my sister started dating regularly, a girl friend of ours has become openly jealous and spiteful. She's always been jealous, but lately her envy has reached such proportions that she can no longer conceal it. Many of her actions and remarks aim to hurt and anger us. We once liked this girl but her present behavior is turning us against her. We feel we should end our friendship with her. What do you think?"

(A)—A friendship is too important to end without using every possible means to keep it. Do everything you can to save your friendship.

Here is another motion for thigh beauty: Lie on your right side with your left hand on the floor in front of you. Be sure that your body is in a straight line from your head to your feet.

Raise your left leg up toward the ceiling, knee stiff. Lower your left leg. Continue raising and lowering. After a while turn on to your left leg and lift and lower the right leg. These two exercises will tone the muscles. The next one will roll away the fatty deposits. Lie on your back with your arms stretched out at the sides. Palms are against the floor. Bend both knees and place the feet on the floor close to the hips. Raise the heels from the floor but keep the toes on the floor. In this position roll from side to side, slapping the thigh against the floor at the end of each roll.

Exercise for Thighs Will Improve Silhouette

Often women write me and say, "I have a fallen hip line." I always suppose they mean the big bulges on the thighs and the lower hips. This is a result of slumped thigh and hip muscles and an accumulation of fat.

The slump is just as important a factor, if not more so, than the fatty deposits because many women have this out-of-proportion silhouette even when they are not overweight. Always remember that fat is more apt to accumulate over lazy muscles.

The following exercise is corrective to thigh slump:

Stand with your left side toward the wall. Place your left hand on the wall for balance. Bend both knees all the way down in a deep knee bend. Keep your back straight. Straighten your knees and rock back on your heels, lifting the toes from the floor. Continue.

Setting of Autumn Flowers For Wedding in St. Mary's

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated at the nuptial service in St. Mary's Church recently which united Doreen Margaret Mackay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. MacKay, Foul Bay Road, and Jack Roger Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith, Catherine Street.

Mr. James Gerry presided at the organ. As the couple returned from the altar steps eight choristers sang "O Perfect Love," the anthem "Love One Another," being sung as the register was signed.

Mr. MacKay gave his daughter away. The bride was a lovely picture in a gown of snowy white nylon net over satin styled with inset of fine lace as a yoke and extending down the fitted bodice, the sleeves tapered to points over the hands and the bouffant skirt slightly en train was poised over a crinoline. Her train-length veil, embroidered with lovers' knots, was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. The groom's gift of pearls was her only jewelry and she carried a white Bible topped with gardenias having streamers entwined with mauve stocks.

Matron of honor was Mrs. A. W. Ferriday, sister of the bride, wearing violet net over taffeta with fitted purple velvet bolero with cap sleeves, pale yellow mitts and bandeau of bright yellow chrysanthemums in her hair corresponding with the blooms in her Colonial bouquet. Mrs.

and Miss Joyce Craigie, bridesmaid, chose pale mauve for their dresses identically styled in nylon net over taffeta with wide belts of deep purple velvet tied in bows in the back. Their mitts matched their gowns and mauve hair bands were trimmed with deep purple chrysanthemums duplicating the flowers in their Colonial bouquets. The tiny three-year-old niece of the bride, Bonnie Heather Mackay, was flower girl in a pale yellow taffeta frock with hooped skirt caught up at the hem with small bows. She wore a small halo of flowers and carried a basket of white beehive chrysanthemums and pink roses.

The bridegroom had his brother, Mr. Ernest W. Smith, as best man and ushers were Mr. Daniel Webster and another brother, Mr. Melvin Smith.

The parents of the couple welcomed guests with them to the reception held at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. Autumn-toned flowers and lighted candles decorated the table which was centred with the three-tiered cake surmounted by pink roses. The toast was proposed by Mr. J. Gordon McKay.

For a motor trip through Washington and Oregon, the bride traveled in a dusty rose knitted suit with Rodex tweed topcoat of turquoise, grey and white plaid, navy blue hat and accessories in her Colonial corsage.

Coronation Styles Are Elegant Creations in Satin and Brocade

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP)—Slipper satin evening gowns, their neutral shading picked as a glamor-background for the heirloom jewelry that will be worn at next year's coronation celebrations are part of the fall fashions featured by Angele Delanghe.

This slight, Belgian-born designer was one of London's exclusive "big ten" when she accepted the role of resident fashion designer in a leading west end store, headed by Canada's Garfield Weston.

In a muted grey and silver salon, Miss Delanghe presents such models as a corded velvet coat of bottle green with big-topped regency sleeves, its flared princess skirt given back bustle effect by a series of deep, stitched tucks.

For customers who generally think of their dress bills in three figures, this coronation style priced at £90, is a sure winner. A street outfit costing £110, is a simple, straight-skirted dress in black-and-red check, with stylish detail at the round neck, yoke and cummerbund waist. It is topped by a matching swagger coat with black facings.

There are boutique numbers such as a brown check tweed dress with classic lines and fringing at yoke and hips. With fringed, collared stole adding charm to the severely tailored lines, it costs only £35.

P.T.A. Notes

CORDOVA BAY — Members voted to leave the local council at recent meeting of Cordova Bay P.T.A. Principal, Mr. Roberts discussed the meaning of P.T.A. and introduced staff members. Plans were made for Halloween party for children. Refreshments and a social hour followed the meeting.

Puzzled about gauge when buying nylon stockings? This term indicates fineness of stitch. A stocking with a high gauge like 66 has smaller stitches—and so gives better snag resistance—than one with a lower gauge like 42.

Emphasis is on the coattress this season which is practically smart in light-as-a-puff worsted tweed. Comes in fall shades of purple rust and brown, often detailed with black braid.

of the cost of such pro-coronation selections as a silver-grey satin brocade ball gown with frosted neckline to the hem of its short raised motif. The semi-crinoline skirt, its fullness coming from folds at either side of the skirt both back and front, and a tight square-necked bodice, form a stunning background for heirloom necklaces and tiaras.

Many coronation gowns are designed in the dull, metallic satins and brocades that make effective backgrounds to diamonds, sapphires, rubies and emeralds and the reds, purples and golds of diplomatic sashes.

WAISTLESS LOOK

But for the smart, individual parties that will be one of the highlights of a champagne year, there are such frivolous fashions as a salmon-pink satin evening gown with the waistless look of underskirt of pleated net.

the 1920s. Completely plain on front from a turtle, cap-sleeved neckline to the hem of its short skirt, the gown depends for styling on the deep, stitched tucks that start on one hip and continue right round the back skirt to give bustle effect.

"I loved designing that dress," said Miss Delanghe, "but waistless styles will never be popular in Britain."

A favorite with many is a dinner gown in black velvet with straight, classic lines, the deep cape collar, cap sleeves and flying front panels of black chiffon, all tipped with white ermine.

An exquisite export item is a black silk organza with simple, flared skirt and cami-styled neckline decorated with applique there are such frivolous fashions as a salmon-pink satin evening skirt rustles over an ankle-length gown with the waistless look of underskirt of pleated net.

Tasty Dishes for Cooler Days Are Prepared With Minimum of Effort

Home economists have prepared recipes for several dishes dedicated to the cooler days that are approaching.

Red and green casserole is one of these. Use three medium green tomatoes, three medium red tomatoes, one large onion (sliced), two tablespoons fat, two teaspoons sugar, one-half cup dry bread crumbs, one tablespoon butter, salt and pepper.

Peel and slice tomatoes. Sauté onion in hot fat until lightly browned (about five minutes). Arrange half the red and green tomatoes, onions and bread crumbs in layers in a greased six-cup casserole, sprinkling tomatoes with sugar, salt and pepper. Repeat arrangement with remaining half of ingredients. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven

FIXING CUCUMBERS

Cucumbers can be fried, boiled or scalloped.

Stuffed cucumbers: six cucumbers (about six inches long), two cups sausage meat (one pound), two-thirds cup finely chopped celery leaves, one-third cup chopped onion, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one teaspoon sage, two cups soft stale bread crumbs. Cut cucumbers in half lengthwise, remove seeds and soft portion with a spoon. Cook cucumbers in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Drain well. Brown sausage meat in a hot frying pan. Add seasonings and crumbs and mix well together. Pile stuffing in cucumber shells. Place in a greased baking dish and bake in a hot oven for 35 minutes until cucumbers are tender. Yield: six servings.

PEACH PARADE

Most persons are eating many fresh peaches these days, but in a few more weeks they will be yearning for the juicy delight.

Here is a recipe for peach fritters which may help housewives put the last peaches of the summer in new dress.

Peel peaches, remove pits and cut in half. Sprinkle with a little brown sugar, then dip into a sweetened regular fritter batter.

Fry a few at a time until delicately browned (three to five minutes) in deep hot fat (350 degrees Fahrenheit). Remove them and drain on crumpled, ungreased paper. Serve hot.

Peach soufflé is made by arranging peach wedges on the bottom of a baking dish. Pour in a soufflé mixture.

And most persons never tire of peach shortcake, peach whip and turnovers.

A final yummy thought: how about a peach chiffon pie?

Woman Keeps Pound For B.C. Ranchers

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C., Sept. 23 (CP).—Hazel Exshaw, slight, middle-aged woman, is pound-keeper in this hub of the British Columbia ranching country and village commissioners regard her as the logical person for the job.

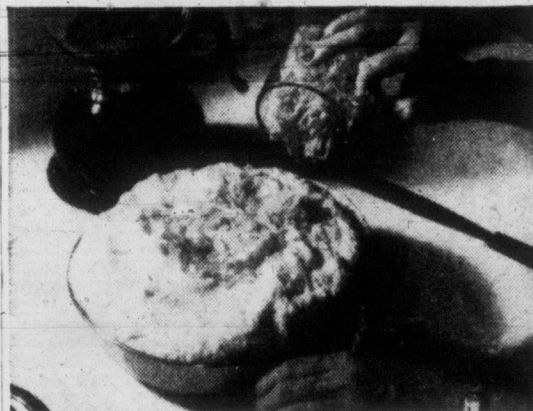

Most of her life has been spent on a ranch. Born in Washington state, she can still mount a horse as nimbly as a 16-year-old. She has laughing brown eyes and a trim figure weighing 125 pounds.

Mrs. Exshaw won the annual stampede pony express relay race for women in 1927 and again in 1930.

Stock does not roam at will through the village, but occasionally a band will jump a nearby ranch fence. "My job," she says, "is to prevent trouble. If wandering stock enters the village, I notify the owner of its whereabouts. If the owner ignores the warning, after a reasonable time the animals are impounded."

Pound fees are $5 a head plus the feed bill for the first day. The pound is a good-sized corral at the town limits.

Cheese for Breakfast

"Break-fast" with a Foamy Cheese Omelet—and start the day with a meal hot 'n' hearty. Use Canadian cheese for breakfast in lots of other ways, too—pays off with handsome flavor and liberal supply of protein.

FOAMY CHEESE OMELET

Three eggs, separated, 3 tablespoons hot water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1/4 cup shredded Canadian Cheddar cheese.

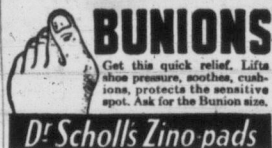

Beat the egg whites until stiff. Then beat yolks, add water, salt and pepper. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn mixture into a well-buttered frying pan and place over moderate heat. Cook until browned underneath, puffed, and beginning to shrink from the sides of the pan. Then sprinkle the grated cheese on top. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until omelet is well puffed, dried and the cheese melted. Fold and serve at once. (Makes three servings.)

Note: When making six servings make two omelets, using quantities as in recipe above for each omelet.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Add wine and lemon rind, and let stand overnight. Beat eggs and blend in sugar and salt. Add milk, rice and raisins and wine mixture. Pour into baking dish and set in pan of hot water. ## British to Probe Order for Planes LONDON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The cabinet is expected soon to discuss an Egyptian request for an early delivery of about 60 modern fighter planes—balance of an order that has remained unfilled since 1950. Informal sources who reported this yesterday said there seems to be little chance Britain would be able to meet the request in full even if the cabinet should approve sending operational war goods to Egypt. This country still is trying to catch up on a big backlog of orders.

Canadian Army Men Reported in Riot

CELLE, Germany, Oct. 1 (Reuters)—Canadian army officers went to the nearby village of Bergen today to investigate a riot Tuesday night in which their men wrecked a tavern and injured two Germans.

The inn had been the scene of an earlier disturbance, broken up when proprietor Willy Högrevé summoned a Canadian officer whose wife lives there. Högrevé said today he thought the troops were seeking "revenge" against him for having called the officer. He said about 20 men took part in Tuesday night's outbreak.

Högrevé said that six Canadians entered his hotel and started throwing beer glasses at the German guests. Then 20 other Canadians "stormed" in. Högrevé said. They smashed nearly all the furniture, the cash register, the bar and all windows. Then they used chair legs to beat Germans who were present. German officials said today the Canadians did not appear to have been drinking. They said British police had refused to intervene. Spokesmen of the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade declined comment except to say that the Canadians came from a training camp outside Bergen. A report will be made to brigade headquarters.

ELMER WAS JUST LUCKY

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 1 (CP)—Elmer Lammie ran a gauntlet of highway perils Tuesday—including being run over by a truck—and emerged with nothing more serious than bruises and scratches.

Lammie, police said, was in an automobile which collided head-on with another car on the Pattullo Bridge here and the impact tossed him from the car—into the path of a moving truck.

But, police added, while the truck passed right over Lammie, none of the wheels touched him and he was able to scamper to his feet almost immediately.

Two of the seven persons in the cars weren't so lucky. They were admitted to hospital where one was described as being in "fair" condition and the other in "fairly good" condition.

The others—including Lammie—were released after a check-up.

JUDY'S WARM NOW

Child Refrigerated While Heart Mended

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Judith Schmidt—proof positive that the heart can be stopped long enough for major surgery—was up and around today and feeling fine. Twelve days ago the Cleveland girl spent 12 hours in a regular kitchen-type deep-freeze to enable Hahnemann Hospital surgeons to stop her heart for five minutes and mend a hole the size of a 50-cent piece.

Normally, the heart cannot be stopped for more than three minutes without injuring the brain. More time was needed in Judith's case so doctors provided it by slowing up the body's processes, thus reducing the demand for oxygen in the tissues and cells.

The child was anesthetized and put in the deep-freeze. With doctors constantly checking her temperature it slowly began to fall away from normal 98.6. At 88 degrees the body's temperature was leveled off.

Then the operation was begun. After it was ended doctors put a thin cover over Judith and allowed her temperature to rise as gradually as it had fallen. Judith was born with the hole in the partition between the right and left sides of her heart. The cavity caused the used blood to be mixed with oxygenated blood passing through the lungs which had made the girl a semi-invalid, weak and subject to dizzy spells.

Wage Settlement Still Far-Off for Railways

OTTAWA, Oct. 1 (CP)—The money demands of the railways and their non-operating 125,000 employees who do not actually operate the trains. The unions had taken a relatively stand-pat position.

Body of Youth Found at Foot Of Deep Cliff

SEWARD, Alaska, Oct. 1 (AP)—The broken body of a 16-year-old boy who slipped into a forbidden hunting area was found Tuesday at the base of a 1,000-foot cliff.

The youth reached the fatal spot after passing police who had set up roadblocks in their search for an escaped convict.

The youth, Willard Mehurin, formerly of Cartersville, Mo., had been missing since Sunday when he failed to meet a companion, Jack Parret, 19, after a shooting trip.

Parret reported his companion's absence and a search was begun, aided by a helicopter.

Tuesday, a party of longshoremen and national guardsmen located Mehurin's body at the foot of the cliff.

A trail is being chopped into the wild Ptarmigan Lake country to bring out the body.

Esquimalt Cannily Counts Costs of Regional Planning

Although Esquimalt council indicated agreement in principle with capital region planning, it took no definite action on the J. W. Wilson report.

Submitted recently by Mr. Wilson on behalf of the Capital Region Planning Board, the report suggested a permanent staff to carry out planning in Greater Victoria with the emphasis on urban development.

Reeve Wurtzle was in favor with the plan but he stated "The question is whether Esquimalt can afford it."

He suggested that if council approved the plan it could place a ceiling on costs.

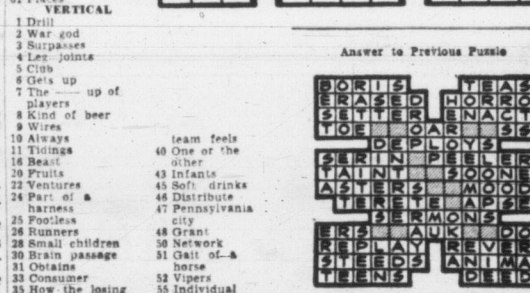

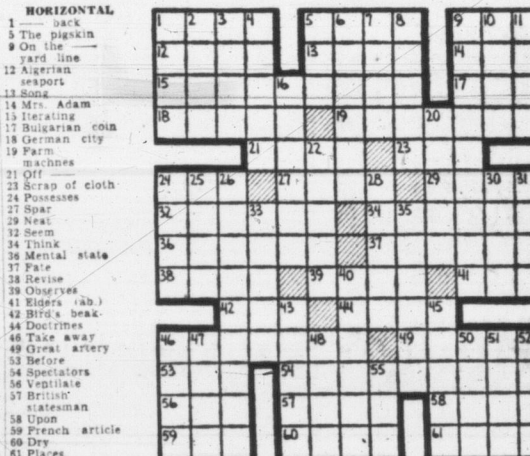

Matter of financing was left for the 1953 council.

Art Can Be Outlet For Feelings of Even Small Child

A child's art can serve as a healthy outlet for his feelings indicating harmonious adjustment, or it can portray serious maladjustment, J. N. Hardman of Burnaby told the Victoria Art Teachers' Association at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams introduced the visiting art teacher to the meeting.

Mr. Hardman explained that art is not a copy of nature, but nature itself. Art should be a language for a child's expression of feeling and observation, he said. He criticized the tendency to concentrate upon the relative evaluation of each child's work rather than the development of each child as a personality.

Maggie on Final Leg Of Longest Cruise

GREENOCK, Scotland, Oct. 1 (BUP)—The Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent, weather-beaten and cruise weary, headed out of the Firth of Clyde for Halifax today on the final leg of the longest cruise of its life.

The 1,100 officers and men of the 18,000-ton carrier all were homesick for Halifax and Canadian soil after more than four months in foreign waters.

Seven of the ship's 22 aircraft were out of commission.

Much of the big craft's machinery and fittings showed the signs of hard use and weather. The Magnificent had operated in Mediterranean heat that sent the temperature below decks to 130 degrees, and in 45-knot North Sea gales.

"Two exercises still face the Magnificent before she can put in for a winter refitting."

En route home from Scotland the carrier will launch her Sea-fury fighters and Avenger anti-submarine planes to join U.S. Air Force and R.C.A.F. units in Exercise Emigrant. In November the Maggie will sail to Bermuda for a brief exercise to train new squadrons or fliers now based at H.M.C.S. Shearwater, Dartmouth, N.S.

The long summer cruise that began June 2 had been "a most valuable one," in the opinion of Capt. Kenneth L. Dyer of Grande Pre, N.S., the ship's commander.

"In carrier operations you can't get enough training," Capt. Dyer said. "Throughout the cruise we have been engaged in useful exercises with ships and planes of nearly all N.A.T.O. countries. It has been tremendously valuable."

LONDON (CP).—Britain's families are becoming smaller. It is officially estimated that 64 out of every 100 couples receiving family allowances have only two children. Nearly 3,250,000 married couples cannot claim the allowance because they have only one child.

Strictly Personal

World's longest personal letter ever written is tapped out on his typewriter by Seaman Pat Kelley Jr., at a naval air station in Japan. Helping him stretch out the record-breaking epistle is a fellow sailor, David Rodger. Kelley debunks the chronic excuse of having "nothing to write about" with his 40-foot, month-long project. He estimates he hit the typewriter 140,000 times.

FILM REVIEW

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

TOMORROW IS TOO LATE (Dominion) — In spite of its excellence I haven't rated this fine Franco-Italian film because, quite candidly, I haven't an idea to whom it should be appealing.

A frank, yet sincere delineation on the woes of adolescents tied up to a quiet plea for liberal sex education, “Tomorrow Is Too Late” left me wondering if I was ever so appallingly worried about cabbages and storks. But maybe I wasn't normal or something.

Of principal interest to Victoria viewers will be the gentle, worried child who plays the lead, Pier Angeli, now Hollywood star. Then, as now, Pier the teen-ager was an actress with understanding and obvious talent brought to flower by the distinguished Italian director Vittorio de Sica whose beautiful directorial hits, “Shoe Shine” and “Miracle in Milan,” will be happily remembered.

In “Tomorrow Is Too Late,” the young people are classmates in a small Italian school. The boys concentrate on lewd literature while the smaller girls industriously hunt for babies among cabbage leaves.

Through it all, in school, and later at a summer camp, the boys and girls are strictly segregated. And when Pier and friend Gino Leurini become lost in the woods and spend an innocent night together, the picture reaches its climax. The youngsters are accused of the worst by the bigotted old biddy who runs the camp (Gabrielle Dorziat). Throughout, understanding teachers Lois Maxwell and De Sica plead for more understanding of the children's problems.

Photography and action are beautifully contrived. Dialogue, which is in Italian (English subtitles) however, is not quite synchronized but does not spoil the overall result.

Alec Guinness Coming to Canada

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP)—Alec Guinness, versatile star of stage and screen, and Tyrone Guthrie, former director of the Old Vic Theatre, have agreed to visit Canada next summer for a proposed Shakespearean festival at Stratford, Ont. It was announced today.

Guinness has established a reputation as one of Britain's outstanding post-war actors. He rocketed to fame as a film star in “Kind Hearts and Coronets.” Then came a series of comedies including “Lavender Hill Mob,” and “The Promoter.”

Plans for the festival have not yet been approved. It is hoped it will become an annual event, essentially Canadian, even though some of the leading stars and directors will come from Britain.

UNPOPULAR? SURE WE ARE!

It's not the business of a newspaper to please everyone. In the masthead phrase of another much-quoted Canadian daily, our job is “to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable.”

That's why we've avoided as the plague a “weather vane” editorial policy, shifting with the winds from every special interest, pressure group and private lobby. Such a policy may gain readers—but does it gain respect?

Because it says what it thinks—in vivid, hard-hitting language—THE TIMES is quoted across the Continent five times as often as any other newspaper on Vancouver Island. And that is why The Times is quoted more often than a Vancouver evening daily with eight times its circulation!

Ask a Schoolteacher

Why is a good breakfast for children so important?

Educational authorities say children who are given a proper breakfast come to school more alert and quicker to learn. Their general fitness and stamina also are better maintained during the morning school session. It is usually suggested that growing youngsters should have a vitamin-rich fruit juice, an occasional egg or bacon to supply protein and a good serving of a cooked cereal. The best cereal is naturally one that contains the whole grain.

Start them off with a sound meal like this:

Here are two suggested breakfast menus approved by dietitians. Red River Cereal is recommended because it contains cracked wheat, whole flax (which acts as a mild regulator) and rye.

Half glass of fresh orange juice. Serving of Red River Cereal with cream or milk and sugar. Toast with butter or margarine. Cocoa or other milk drink.

1/2 medium size musk melon. Serving of Red River Cereal with cream or milk and sugar. Whole wheat or rye bread with marmalade. Glass of cold milk.

Defense Department Divisions Are Closed

OTTAWA, Oct. 1 (CP) — The I.M.C. recently announced that the world supply of newsprint has gradually improved and no further allocations will be needed.
F. V. C. Hewett of Toronto, director of the non-ferrous metals division, returns to private consulting practice in Toronto. He is succeeded by Norman D. Davis of Ottawa, who has been acting as divisional consultant. The division's work has recently been cut with the lifting of controls on copper and aluminum mill forms.
The division of chemicals and explosives and of newspaper were closed out. Their directors, and the director of the non-ferrous metals divisions, are returning to civilian jobs.
Dr. J. R. Donald of Montreal, director of the chemicals and explosives division, returns as president of J. T. Donald and Company Limited, Montreal. Mr. Howe said most of his administrative jobs will be scrapped and any remaining problems turned over to Dr. H. Saunderson, the department's materials co-ordinator.
R. M. Fowler of Montreal, who headed the newspaper division, resumes the presidency of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association on a full-time basis.
The division was set up to direct international allocations of newsprint recommended by the International Materials Conference.

57 Canadian Jets Safe at Greenland

OTTAWA, Oct. 1 (CP) — A group of 57 jet fighter planes, which had been waiting at Goose Bay, Labrador, since Monday to resume their flight across the Atlantic, have arrived safely at Greenland on the second hop of the journey. R.C.A.F. headquarters announced today.
Word reaching headquarters said the planes made the jump to the Greenland station, Blue West one, Tuesday afternoon.
Meanwhile six other jets which left their home base at North Bay, Ont., last Sunday and were forced to stop over at Bagbyville, Que., have continued on to Goose Bay.
The 63 planes — a full fighter wing — are bound for Gros Tenu, near Metz, France. They left their home bases at Uplands, near Ottawa, St. Hubert, near Montreal, and North Bay last Sunday.
They will make up the first of a four-wing division to be established near Metz under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by 1954. Their next stop will be to Keflavik, Iceland.

Supreme Court Judge Flays Labor Leaders

VANCOUVER, Oct. 1 (CP) — Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in Supreme Court Tuesday condemned what he termed irresponsible labor leaders.
He declared such leaders are "false to their trust" and bring trouble to workers.
Mr. Justice Manson delivered his criticism in a judgment which dissolved an injunction restraining picketing at McGavin's Bakery Company head office here.
The bakery company had been picketed by union members to publicize a dispute at Kelowna where McGavin workers are on strike.
The union application was granted to dissolve the injunction issued for the head office here, but Mr. Justice Manson said it would be continued at the company plant with "no nonsense."
He declared he wanted no smart tactics from business agent Mel Kemmis of the A.F.L. Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union.
The court said some union leaders do excellent work which improves the general condition of society, but others are "mischievous makers."
He added that the law provides for picketing in certain circumstances.
"When it goes beyond what is provided for in the law, it nearly always develops into a public or private nuisance."

TRY SPICY PORK AND BEANS

Bubbling with spicy flavor is a pork and bean casserole made with chopped apple, sausage and spices. First pour one 1-pound can of pork and beans into a baking dish. Cut a medium-sized apple into bite-size pieces and stir it into the beans; add 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Dot the top with 1 large link sausage, cut into coin slices. Heat to bubbling in 20 to 40 minutes (400 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

Fast Ferry Service
For Sidney Likely

Chamber President Says
C.P.R. 'Keenly Interested'

Possibility of a fast daily ferry service between Saanich Peninsula and Vancouver was disclosed today by Chamber of Commerce president Tom Denny.

"I think the prospects are very good," he told The Times. Chamber officials have been working on the plan for nearly a year, he disclosed. But it was not until today that the B.C. Coast Service's district passenger agent H. C. James authorized release of the facts of an investigation, now in progress.

The Canadian Pacific's coast service is understood to be studying possibility of constructing wharf accommodation for carrying ferry vessels at either Sidney, Swartz Bay or Shoal Harbor.

"Canadian Pacific officials have acknowledged keen interest in the idea," Mr. Denny disclosed. "And they have promised an immediate study of the new route."

LOCAL SERVICE

Moreover, he said, there is reason to hope for improvement in the present Victoria-Vancouver service. The slow schedule, subject of protest by Victoria and district public bodies, fails to connect with eastbound trains and northbound steamers and means a day's stop-over in Vancouver for Victorians interested in travel beyond that point.

Referring back to the possible Saanich service, Mr. Denny said that his group had been working on the plan for some time but it, he added, that recently they had increased pressure.

The idea is for a schedule of about three hours between Vancouver and the Island terminus, he said. One trip a day is the initial plan, but this might be increased in the summer season, he believes.

Ten-Year-Old
Kills Rattler

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., Oct. 1 (BUP).—The R.C.M.P. broadcast a warning at Port Alberni today for children to stay away from a gully in the Glenwood district where a 10-year-old boy killed a rattlesnake.

It was later reported to be a venomous reptile, about 3½ feet long and "rattling furiously."

"Rattlesnakes don't occur naturally on Vancouver Island," said Dr. Clifford Carl, curator of the provincial museum, queried today.

"I have read somewhere recently of a rattlesnake having escaped from a sideshow somewhere up that island, and I expect this may be on the plan for some time but it," he added,

15-Year-Old
City's Ninth
Case of Polio

B.C. Total 373;
Incidence Wanes

A 15-year-old Victoria boy is the latest poliomyelitis case reported today by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer for Victoria and Esquimalt.

It brings to three the number of 15-year-old boys who have been reported as polio cases in Victoria proper this year.

Total number of cases for the city to date is nine.

Only one other case of polio has occurred in B.C. in the last 24 hours, however, bolstering provincial health department officials' belief that the epidemic is on the wane.

The new case is a 23-year-old Pentliden woman.

It brought the 1952 total number of cases to 373. There have been no new deaths for some time, the total remaining at 23.

The Victoria boy is reported to have "quite mild symptoms." He is in isolation at Jubilee Hospital.

Likely To Quit

Protest Sacred
Labor Policies

By GORDON FORBES

Resignation of one member of the five-man B.C. Labor Relations Board is imminent when the board was formed in 1947, has submitted his resignation. It was learned unofficially today. It is expected to be presented to the provincial cabinet by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks this week.

George A. Wilkinson, an A.P.L.-T.L.G. union nominee appointed when the board was formed in 1947, has submitted his resignation. It was learned unofficially today. It is expected to be presented to the provincial cabinet by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks this week.

Other resignations may follow. Mr. Wilkinson and D'Arcy Baldwin, board chairman, were tight-lipped when asked for comment today.

But Mr. Wilkinson's silence is expected to be broken after his resignation is accepted.

FED UP

Close friends of Mr. Wilkinson said he is "absolutely and utterly fed up" with the attitude of the new government, and he is taking a position in industry.

Unless within the labor department has been evident for several weeks, but top labor officials hoped it was due only to the government's "settling down" period. They say now their hopes were in vain.

Word of Mr. Wilkinson's pending resignation came as the government started considering formation of a non-permanent labor relations board, similar to many other Canadian provinces.

His resignation, however, has no direct connection with this proposal. It is known he has been considering quitting for considerable time. The advisability of changing the existing permanent nature of the L.R.B. is still in process, and no decision is expected for some time.

Top government officials are studying the organization of labor boards in other provinces, and the United States.

A minority group in the government favors complete abolition of the L.R.B., but there is little likelihood of this ever materializing.

Certain groups, which feel such a step would be disastrous, already have brought pressure to bear on the government, insisting there must always be a labor board if any sort of labor-management peace is to be maintained in British Columbia.

CABBIE THOUGHT
IT WASN'T FARE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 1 (BUP).—This really happened, Vancouver cab driver George Broadbridge told police.

He picked up a fare who ran up a $15 bill. The man produced a $2 bill, tore it into four pieces and handed Broadbridge two, saying, "Here's a buck."

The fare then handed Broadbridge one of the torn pieces, saying, "Here's 15 cents."

Finally, Broadbridge adds, the man tossed the remaining piece with these words, "Heck, this is no use to me."

To give the raid a realistic atmosphere, civil defense officials arranged for smoke and flame to issue from the tops of buildings in the Times Square area and for a water main to "burst" and flood the streets. Real bombers roared overhead and were picked out by searchlights.

More than 50,000 firemen, policemen and civil defense volunteers went through their paces in the largest air raid drill ever staged in the New York area.

Rookie Pitcher Hero
As Bums' Bats Boom

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers, with a display of home-run power, won the opening game of the 1952 World Series today, beating the New York Yankees 4-2 before 34,861 spectators.

The Dodgers scored all their runs on homers — one each by Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Pee-wee Reese — as Joe Black, the rookie relief artist, checked the Yankee batters.

The Yanks also had one homer, by Gil McDougald, as Black and Allie Reynolds, veteran Yankee ace, waged a brilliant pitching duel until Snider made his four base wallop with Reese on base in the sixth inning.

Play by play follows:

FIRST INNING

YANKEES — The opening batter, Hank Bauer, flied out to Andy Pafko in left field. Pafko went back near the wall for Rizzuto's fly. Mickey Mantle, batting left, popped a 3 and 2 pitch to Reese at short.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

DODGERS — Billy Cox hit Reynolds' first pitch to Noren against the wall in left field. Reese took a called third strike after working the count to 3 and 2. Duke Snider hit a towering fly to Mantle in right.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

DODGERS — Rizzuto rapped a clean single to left centre to lead off the inning. Mantle swung at a high curve and then bunted the next pitch. Black fielded the bunt but Mantle beat the throw to first.

The return throw was too late to get Berra. Rizzuto went to third. Collins flied to Furillo in right. Rizzuto held at third. Robinson threw out Noren.

No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

DODGERS — Reese flied out to Mantle but Snider doubled off the right field wall. Robinson worked the count to 3-2 and walked. Campanella hit into a double play, Martin to Collins.
